Big Waterfront Theft Ring At Halifax Bared

HALIFAX (CP)—A huge waterfront theft ring stretching from the Halifax dockside into inland Canada and involving hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of merchandise has been uncovered by Royal Canadian Mounted Police, it was disclosed here today.

Existence of the black market organization, which specialized heavily and almost exclusively in expensive British textiles, was revealed by an intensive six-week investigation by R.C.M.P. officers in Halifax, Montreal, Toronto and intermediate centres, with the focal point of the probe in this city.

The value of the loot in textiles alone amounted to "several hundred thousand dollars," it was stated by Inspector D. A. MacKinnon, officer commanding the Halifax sub-division of the Mounted Police, who has been in charge of the investigation.

So far, no arrests have been made, police said, although the force has obtained evidence pointing to the involvement of a considerable number of persons in the ring, whose booty was obtained from cargoes landed in Halifax from ships.

Transactions Of Companies Traced

Business firms in Halifax and Montreal are among those known to be implicated, the R.C.M.P. said, but the identities of the firms involved are being withheld for the time being.

So far-reaching has been the extent of the ring's activities that the R.C.M.P., despite weeks of inquiries, have not yet been able to calculate fully the total amount of the stolen goods, which disappeared from the waterfront here over a period of years.

However, it is known that at one period of the ring's operations a few years ago, its depredations had become so serious that firms engaged in the shipment of the goods in question, seriously considered shutting off the shipments altogether because of the heavy losses they were suffering.

As the result of the R.C.M.P. investigation, the losses now have trickled away to a minimum.

A considerable proportion of the stolen goods, it has been established, was disposed of on the black market in Halifax.

Federal Government Lost Much Revenue

The goods disappeared, as a rule, after being unloaded from ships, and before they passed through the customs. It was primarily because the federal government was being defrauded of customs revenue that the R.C.M.P. were called into the case, since cases of ordinary theft within this city do not ordinarily come into their jurisdiction.

Most of the stolen materials, the R.C.M.P. learned, were spirited away from the dockside by night, apparently with the help of men posing as stevedores.

In Montreal, according to information in the hands of the investigators, some of the loot was disposed of direct to large firms in the clothing trade, which made it up into the manufactured product.

Japanese Premier Says 20 to 30 Years Needed to Rebuild

TOKYO (AP)—Premier Kijuro Shidehara predicted today it would take 20 to 30 years for Japan to rebuild and added that swift restoration of foreign trade was essential for the crushed nation's livelihood.

The Premier's remarks were made in an interview with Robert McLean, president of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin and of the Associated Press; Norman Chandler, president and publisher of the Los Angeles Times; and Benjamin McKelway, associate editor of the Washington Star.

Shidehara said restoration of business may be accomplished in two or three years.

In reply to a question from Mr. McLean, the Premier said he had learned since assuming office that Emperor Hirohito had received the late President Roosevelt's prewar peace message but it was "too late for him to do anything about it. I believe hostilities already had started."

No Riots But Women and Men Arrive Before 8 for Long-Awaited Nylons

Orderly crowds at the Hudson's Bay Company filed through special booths set up according to hosiery sizes. Note large number of male shoppers.

"Nylons selling on the fourth floor."

These words, spoken in a carefully controlled voice over the Hudson's Bay Company loudspeakers as the store's clocks struck nine today, sent a horde of women, and a good many men, too, charging through the main floor and up the stairs. Men in army, navy and air force uniforms were in the male contingent.

Few even bothered to glance at the elevators. The long-awaited day had arrived and business girls, housewives, bobby-soxers, women young and old were out to get a pair of glamorous nylons.

First in the long line-up that started forming outside before 8 was B. S. Tye. He said he had come to get a pair for his wife.

By opening time the queue had stretched along Douglas Street and up Fisgard Street past the store's parking lot. The Bay, only large store selling nylons over the counter, was well prepared for any emergency.

"But," as C. N. Chubb, store manager, said, surveying the crowd, "It is one of the most orderly crowds I've ever seen."

AS AT THE RACES

Up in the farthest corner of the fourth floor employees had set up booths for sizes 8½ to 10½. Each booth carried signs "In" and "out" and the arrangement looked exactly like the pari-mutuels at the races.

At 10.45 sizes 8½, 9 and 10½ were sold out. A few stragglers were buying 9½ and 10 still. Department managers surveyed the scene and noted that everyone in the line-ups had a pair of nylons

J. Pearse and J. McGrath, store commissionaires, were on hand to police the crowd. Ray Taylor, Lorne Ross, and Clifford Blake, recruited from the clerks, were there to help the commissionaires stem any outbreaks of rioting. Also present was the H.B.C. nurse.

She had provided hosiery clerks with smelling salts in case of trouble.

At the approaches to the booths, girls from the hosiery department handed out tickets bearing the different sizes, so that no one would wait in line once their size was sold out.

Ex-service girls were among the hordes of women of all ages who came to town today seeking nylons. Here Jill Humphreys and Betty Dunsmuir, former Wrens, display a pair, the first they've had in three years.

ORDERLY CROWD

A few minutes after the main floor doors opened, the nylon seekers were lined up in orderly formation, their numbers stretching down two flights of stairs. Perhaps it was the long wait outside, or lack of breath from the initial charge, but none showed any tendencies to break ranks.

First to buy nylons were Kay Trevelyan, 115 Hampton Road, and Jean Donaldson, 2323 Wark Street. Mr. Tye, who was well ahead of them in the line-up outside, had been crowded out in the first rush.

Bay stockings sold at $1.75 and $1.50, the former being the same type which cost $1.95 at the start of the war. Better methods of production, Mr. Chubb said, accounted for the drop in price. He expected another shipment within two weeks.

SPENCER'S MAIL CARDS

At David Spencer Ltd. there were no crowds at the hosiery counter. Employees mailed 1,000 cards, Monday, to women who had registered for nylons. First to pick up a pair was a girl who lived in a downtown hotel. She arrived at 9.10.

Spencer's will continue mailing 1,000 cards each day until their quota is used up. Prices are $1.50, $1.75 and $1.95.

Longest line-up at the smaller stores was from B. M. Clarke's. It went up Yates Street past the Dominion Hotel before opening time.

Most other smaller stores reserved their nylons for special customers. Two said they were not selling nylons until later in the day to give business girls a chance.

At a Douglas Street store a middle-aged housewife was told this by a clerk.

"That's fine," she replied, "I'll wait outside."

And that's what she did, determined to wait all day if necessary.

No one thought to go to the chain stores and shoppers at one were pleasantly surprised to see nylons on the hosiery counter and no line-up. They were the $1.50 variety.

Department managers in most stores said they expected a second shipment in 10 days or two weeks. They planned to use again whatever system of distribution they had followed today. Some expected a few of super-sheer 57 gauge selling at $2.50 in the second lot.

From Edmonton came reports of 5,000 women in line-ups before the principal stores. A few had had their hands trampled on and some skinned their knees in the first stampede as doors opened.

First hours were the worst according to reports from Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Regina, Saskatoon and Calgary. All had early buyers camping on the doorsteps of their stores.

Mace Prepared for House Opening

W. F. Tranter, custodian of the mace, polishes up the symbol of royal authority for the opening here Thursday of the first session of the 21st Legislature of British Columbia. Mace-bearer for the opening will be the sergeant-at-arms, W. R. Webster.

Chungking Officials Discuss Extended Stay of Russians

CHUNGKING (AP) — The troubled situation in Manchuria, caused by the extended stay there of Russian troops and by activities of forces friendly to the Chinese Communists, caused a special conference here between Central government officials.

Wang Shi-chien, Foreign Minister just returned from a Nanking conference with President Chiang Kai-shek, conferred Monday night with Chang Kai-ngau, Director of Economic Affairs for Manchuria, and Chiang Ching-kuo, the Generalissimo's elder son, who is special commissioner of foreign affairs in Manchuria.

The results of their discussion were not reported.

Wang is reported to have conveyed to the elder Chiang Russia's reply to China's recent inquiry about Soviet plans for withdrawal from Manchuria. The deadline for withdrawal was Feb. 1, but latest reports indicate the Russians plan to stay in Manchuria until about June 1.

The Communists too were discussing the Manchurian situation. Gen. Chou En-lai, their No. 2 leader, flew to party headquarters at Yennan today to consult Mao Tse-tung and other Communist leaders.

Canadian Spies, Professionals, In Russian Pay

By GEORGE KITCHEN

OTTAWA (CP)—Professional spies, all believed to be Canadians, were employed by the foreign mission here which operated the alleged Russian spy ring now under scrutiny of a Royal Commission, the Canadian Press learned on good authority late today.

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister King has been in communication with Prime Minister Attlee regarding the leakage of secret information in Ottawa, but the British government leader does not intend to make a statement on the matter, he told the House of Commons today.

Mr. Attlee answered "Yes" when Anthony Eden, leader of the Conservative opposition, asked if the Canadian Prime Minister had been in touch with him on the matter. However, to a question asking if he had any statement to make, he replied: "As the matter is in the hands of the Canadian government and is sub judice, I do not think it proper to say any more about it."

That was his only comment on the matter, he told the Commons, and he gave no answer to William Gallacher when the veteran Communist member asked if in view of the current "sensationalism" about spies, the British Prime Minister would publish the amount of money spent by Britain in international spying.

Says Soviet Tried To Purchase Uranium

OTTAWA (CP)—Uranium, the treasured key to atomic power, came to the forefront of Canada's bizarre spy ring inquiry today with a Montreal report that Soviet agents had sought to buy $500,000 worth of the rare element from "black market" sources, but failed to get it out of the country.

The report was published today by the Montreal Gazette and tended to confirm persistent reports here that atomic bomb data headed the list of information being sought by the spy ring, said by authoritative sources to be guided by Moscow.

The Montreal report lacked official confirmation here—as have many other reports arising in the wake of the inquiry—but it was recalled that a high source told the Canadian Press Sunday the ring was seeking "anything in which a spy would be interested."

The story provided the first direct link between the spy ring inquiry and the government investigation into past transactions of Eldorado Gold Mines Ltd., the uranium-mining company which was expropriated by the government two years ago to safeguard the source of the element.

The Eldorado inquiry, conducted by J. Grant Glassco, Toronto accountant, was launched nearly a year ago and one report said it resulted from information that some uranium had fallen into unauthorized hands. Reconstruction Minister Howe, the minister responsible for safeguarding the precious element, said he knew nothing of uranium reaching unauthorized persons.

However, he told the Commons last November while defending orders-in-council which gave Mr. Glassco unprecedented powers, that radium and uranium were of "such tremendous war potential it was believed necessary to know whether any of the material had gone astray."

Suggests Reporters Inquire in Ottawa

Mr. Glassco, approached Monday night in Toronto for comment on the Montreal story, referred questioners to Ottawa. However, authorities here declined to discuss the report in the absence of Mr. Howe on the B.C. coast.

The name "pitchblende," for the rare ore in which uranium is found, became taboo in official Ottawa during the war. Knowledge of the big Canadian pitchblende deposit at Great Bear Lake, site of the Eldorado Mine, was commonplace before the war, but following government expropriation of the property, mention of the deposits was on the "hush-hush" list.

Ranking officials even refused to discuss a report of a departmental survey last summer that a pitchblende deposit had been found near Lake Athabaska, in the northwest corner of Saskatchewan.

Meanwhile, the official inquiry, headed by Mr. Justice Robert Taschereau and Mr. Justice R. L. Kellock of the Supreme Court of Canada, proceeded here in utter secrecy amid reports that new clues being produced by suspects were widening the work of government counter - espionage squads.

The next concrete development in the case appeared to be an interim progress report from the commissioners, which one authoritative source indicated would be made shortly, possibly this week.

The investigation put Canada on the front pages of newspapers around the world.

A dispatch from London quoted the London Daily Herald as reporting it was understood a man had been detained near London in connection with the round-up, and was being flown to Canada. This tended to confirm similar week-end reports here.

Report Man Of High Rank Held

The number of suspects being held at the big R.C.M.P. barracks at Rockcliffe, near Ottawa, centre of the investigation, still was an official secret, but an Associated Press report published in New York said one of those detained held a rank "very close" to that of deputy minister.

Without official word of developments, authoritative sources told the Canadian Press these significant things:

1. Government agents have begun to backcheck on known "cells" in the former Communist Party of Canada.

2. The investigation has shown a tendency to "snowball" as the questioning of suspects brought new information.

3. No detentions were made Monday anywhere in Canada, but there "undoubtedly will be future detentions."

4. Some women are being held, though the number is believed to be small. It could not be learned whether they were detained only for questioning or as potential accused.

No Immediate Telephone Strike Coming in U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—A strike of long-distance telephone operators in Philadelphia was settled today, removing the threat of an immediate country-wide sympathy telephone tie-up, but the possibility of a country-wide walkout for higher wages still was in the cards.

Peter J. Manno, federal conciliator, said at Philadelphia the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and representatives of the Independent Federation of Long Lines Telephone Workers had reached an agreement on the issue of promotions and that 1,000 striking operators would return to work.

At Memphis, Tenn., where representatives of the National Federation of Telephone Workers are in conference, John A. Moran, president of the Federation of Long Line Operators, had announced earlier he would call a sympathy work stoppage of long-distance operators if the Philadelphia strike was not settled within 24 hours.

However, Joseph A. Beirne, federation president, said a majority of the 50 independent unions in his group favored a strike of its claimed 250,000 members in support of wage demands. This issue remained independent of the Philadelphia strike.

The troubles in the telephone industry came as the country's most crippling strike—a four-week-long walkout of 750,000 C.I.O. steelworkers—was drawing to a close. More than half of the strikers had been ordered back to their jobs as companies accepted the agreement with the C.I.O. United Steelworkers to increase wages 18½ cents an hour. However, the return to work was expected to be gradual, with normal operations not expected until next month.

Coalitionist M.L.A. For Point Grey Dies

LATE J. A. PATON

VANCOUVER (CP) — James Alexander Paton, 61, member of the British Columbia Legislature for Vancouver Point Grey, died in a hospital here today. His mother, Mrs. Anne Paton, 85, died two days ago.

Mr. Paton was first elected to the Legislature in 1937, and was re-elected in 1941, both times while contesting as a Conservative candidate. He was re-elected last fall as a Coalition candidate.

He was Reeve of Point Grey Municipality before the latter area was amalgamated with Vancouver in 1929. He was elected an alderman of Vancouver in 1929.

A veteran of the first Great War, Mr. Paton lost a leg while in France with the 72nd Battalion.

Born in Beamsville, Ont., he moved to British Columbia, becoming owner and publisher of the Point Grey News Gazette.

The death of Mr. Paton reduces the Coalition membership in the Legislature to 36. There are 10 C.C.F. members and one Labor.

Canadians to Quit West Indies Soon

OTTAWA (CP)—After a vital but colorless static defence role in the British West Indies, Canadian troops will be withdrawing this spring, Defence Headquarters announced today.

Last Canadian troops in the West Indies are the 1st Battalion, Brockville Rifles (Ontario) and two special infantry companies of the Pictou (N.S.) Highlanders.

The presence of Canadian troops—kept at a strength of about 1,200 from 1934—ensured against the use of the area for U-boat and spy bases. And it also served as a sort of advance training base for Canadian troops who eventually saw action in Europe.

Little difficulty has been given the role Canada played in the defence of the West Indies—a role overshadowed by the more spectacular actions in the Mediterranean and northwest Europe.

Canada had no direct responsibility for the West Indies defence but, during the war when Britain's commitments in all parts of the world were particularly heavy, Canada agreed to send troops to guard that area.

C.C.F. Caucus Tomorrow to Map Legislative Action

First party caucus of the C.C.F., at which plans of the opposition will be mapped for the forthcoming session of the B.C. Legislature, has been called for tomorrow afternoon, Harold Winch, party and opposition leader, said today.

Mr. Winch outlined the C.C.F.'s program as follows:

1. Support of labor demands for a 40-hour work week and 60-cent minimum wage.

2. Swift government action to cope with the housing shortage.

3. Practical steps to meet the threat of unemployment in this province.

4. Improvement of health services.

5. A campaign to force action toward scientific research in industrial uses of agricultural products.

"Some quarters have said that this is not a particularly important session. I think it is. It is the first postwar session, for one thing, and plans ought to be matured to face up to the postwar period," Mr. Winch said.

Just back from Saskatchewan, Mr. Winch said British Columbia was 25 years behind the times in research and development.

"The National Research Council is setting up in Saskatoon with a $2,000,000 fund to pursue scientific study," he said. "I want to see the government of B.C. set an example. It is not sound business to leave research entirely to private enterprise. It is only through research and the wider industrial use of our agriculture products that we can solve the problem of the farmer. It is our only hope for new employment."

Mr. Winch was not hopeful of legislation at the forthcoming session to effect the 40-hour week.

"The only scientific approach to the labor problem is by way of the 40-hour week—the five-day week and eight-hour day," he said. "But I don't expect the government to agree to it."

He added that a 44-hour week was the logical compromise.

The opposition in the Legislative Assembly now is only 10 men strong. Although in that opposition are some of the party's veteran legislators, such as E. E. Winch of Burnaby, father of the party leader, and Sam Guthrie of Cowichan-Newcastle, some of the opposition's punch was lost at the Oct. 25 provincial general election with the defeat of key debators like Colin Cameron, Grant MacNeil, Mrs. Dolly Steeves, W. W. Lefeaux, Mrs. Laura Jamieson and Mrs. Grace MacInnis.

Ex-Prisoners Still Send Grateful Notes

Letters continue to come to Mayor Percy George from grateful ex-prisoners-of-war who passed through here on their way home from Jap prison camps.

One received today from L. R. Andrews of Burnside, Burley, near Ringwood, Hants, asks Mayor George for assistance in locating a "Mrs. Elliott" who sent Mr. Andrews a food parcel. Her return address was obliterated from the parcel which got somewhat damaged en route and the ex-prisoner cannot thank her personally for her gift.

Another letter came from Cpl. J. G. Dorse, who on behalf of members of the Corps of Royal Engineers, thanked Victoria citizens for the "grand time offered to us by the grand people of your city." He mentioned particularly the Y.M.C.A., the Canadian Legion, the Salvation Army and the W.V.S., whose ladies were the first "white ladies we had seen in seven years who spoke our own tongue."

Officers Named For Legislature

Officers, attendants, secretaries and page boys for the forthcoming session of the 31st Legislative Assembly of British Columbia have been named as follows:

W. R. Webster, sergeant-at-arms; J. M. Fairall, deputy sergeant-at-arms; R. G. Fawcett, assistant deputy sergeant-at-arms.

A. M. Hobbs, Speaker's attendant; F. M. Greenwood, Speaker's secretary; Mrs. J. M. Mendels, Opposition Leader's secretary.

W. F. Tranter, H. W. Webster, G. MacGregor, A. McD. Pollock, W. A. Webster, J. F Johnson, A. C. Landale, D. Croston, C. G. Briggs, R. Hayes and J. Carr, attendants.

Mrs. J. Collins, chief government stenographer; Miss H. B. Cruickshank, Miss M. F. Child, Mrs. E. P. Allan and Mrs. F. M. North, government stenographers.

Miss M. B. Massey and Miss M. E Bacchus, C.C.F. stenographer.

J. D. Shrimpton, sergeant of pages; William Trimble, corporal of pages; G. Rovers, W. Bellobaba, A. G. Connell, E. G. McInnes, J. A. Noel, T. Carlson and J. Merriman, pages.

Whittaker Expected As Speaker Again

N. W. WHITTAKER, K.C.

member of the B.C. Legislature for Saanich since 1933, is considered at the Parliament Buildings as a sure bet for the role of speaker for the 21st Legislature.

First elected to the house during the Liberal landslide in 1933 when he defeated the Conservative leader, Premier S. F. Tolmie, Mr. Whittaker was first elected speaker in 1937, succeeding H. G. T. Perry, who late became minister of education. Mr. Whittaker was again elected speaker in 1941.

The speaker will be elected Thursday as the 21st Legislature convenes. He is usually nominated by the premier and seconded by the leader of the opposition.

Wide Variety Marks Shadbolt Exhibition At Spencer's Gallery

Bold, free strokes in many of the water colors and good figure work mark J. L. Shadbolt's exhibition which opened Monday afternoon at Spencer's Art Gallery.

Nearly every phase of the war is covered in the work done by Mr. Shadbolt while overseas as administrative officer of the Official Canadian War Artists. In addition the display includes water colors of Cornish fishing villages and Canadian scenes.

Anthony Walsh of the Gordon Head Reconditioning Centre traced the development of the artist's work in opening the exhibition. He noted a definite advancement in Mr. Shadbolt's work during the time spent overseas.

"He has caught the spirit of what England endured," said Mr. Walsh. The work, he said, was the first example of that done by a man returning from the war and it would be the forerunner of painting done by others coming back.

Hon. Mark Kearley introduced Mr. Walsh and told the gathering the city by-law calling for a $20 license fee for each day of an exhibit prevented an admission charge. He stressed neither Federation of Canadian Artists, which sponsored the showing nor himself, wished to criticize Mayor Percy George in connection with the by-law.

Mr. Kearley appealed to art lovers to agitate for a repeal of the by-law pointing out that small countries such as Switzerland encouraged their artists whereas Canada, a middle power, did nothing for them. Everyone interested in art, he said, should also work for establishment of an art gallery in Victoria.

Two paintings of the bomb-blasted Naval and Military Hotel in South Kensington caught the spirit of desolation in wrecked buildings. Outstanding for figure work is the painting entitled "Captured German Storm Troopers" showing a round-up of Nazis, their faces sullen and blank. Also showing good figure work is the scene entitled "Infantry Advancing Up a River Bed," wherein Mr, Shadbolt also portrays the freezing cold of the winter campaigns in Europe.

Clever lights and shadows along with fluid, bold strokes characterize "Sea Gulls in the Harbor," one of the best of the Cornish scenes. Others in this section show the picturesque villages of Cornwall with their bright houses, sea walls and fishing craft.

Vancouver's tumultuous welcome to the Implacable has been recorded in one of the largest scenes which gives fine detail in showing the crowds that swarmed over the approaches to the dockside to look at the big warship.

"Pine Tree on the Rideau River" is in sharp contrast to "Village Under the Mountain," a scene typical of British Columbia showing mountains that seem to rise out of the sea.

There is a wide variety in the Canadian section which includes paintings of Robson and Cambie Streets in Vancouver, a Cariboo ranch and Ottawa's Plaza.

The exhibit will continue until Feb. 28.

Salary Increases Affect Esquimalt School Estimates

Increase in teachers' and janitors' salaries, pension fund and a decrease in revenue contributed to a rise in school estimates for Esquimalt from $38,500 last year to $43,000 this year, Benjamin Caley, chairman of the school board, informed the Esquimalt council meeting Monday night. The council approved the estimates.

Councillor G. R. Guillemaud asked why the board could not figure closer to margin in estimates when he learned there was a surplus of $1,900 in 1945.

"I can't understand why there should be such a big surplus every year," he said. Mr. Caley replied that the board had to be prepared for any emergency.

The matter of paying 15 cents per capita for social assistance work in Esquimalt was again under fire from Reeve Thomas Hadfield, who said the council would not go "into the thing willingly." There were approximately 80 cases in Esquimalt last year, and the cost on that basis would total $570 a year or approximately $7 per annum for the 80 cases, the reeve told the meeting. The regulations were made under the province's Social Assistance Act in 1945.

ESTIMATE ON WATER MAIN

The council will apply to the city water works department for an estimate on the installation of a water main for a subdivision in the Bewdley Avenue area. Tender from Esquimalt Hardware of $89 for supplying heating equipment for the fire department was accepted.

Esquimalt School Board will be asked to enlist the services of high school students in an effort to eliminate the tent-caterpillar menace, councillors decided on receipt of a letter from the Dominion entomologist. The sum of $8,000 at present in the sewer loan sinking fund will be transferred to the expropriation fund.

Permission to instal a 500-gallon pumper at Yarrows No. 1 shipyard was given. The council agreed to increase the remuneration paid the police department when sent out on fire calls from $5 to $20 a month and to eliminate the paying of the men on an hourly basis when called out. Request for repairs to the dog pound were referred to the engineer.

Councillor J. A. Ellis told the meeting that plans were completed for holding a Civil Defence concert in Lampson Street School, at 8, Wednesday evening, when certificates will be presented to a number of Esquimalt residents.

FOUNDRY TURNED DOWN

Offer to purchase a lot in the Fairfield Road area for the purpose of erecting a brass and iron foundry was received from W. McKay. The applicant will be informed the area is not zoned for such a business. A resolution from the Township of Langley, asking that the provincial government bear 100 per cent of education costs, was tabled. Request from G. D. Cramb for removal of a tree on Old Esquimalt Road was referred to the engineer for report. Reeve and councillors' remuneration by-law will be introduced at the next meeting.

Old Customs Block W.A.C. Warehouse

The old customs appraisal building on Langley Street, a brick structure, will be the War Assets Corporation supply warehouse and office here, it was learned today.

The corporation's regional supply manager, E. W. Bourque, said last week that warehouses might be established at other points on Vancouver Island, depending on the quantity of war surpluses available.

The branch sales manager in Vancouver, Maj. M. Montgomery, said a War Assets sales office might be established in Victoria later.

Victoria Film Council

In order to assist organizations belonging to the Film Council to make the best use of films, the executive is providing discussion leaders for film forums.

Among the films to be previewed by the purchasing committee Wednesday and Thursday nights will be "Ski in the Valley of the Saints," "A Child Went Forth," "West Wind," and "A Place to Live In."

Film showings are as follows: Wednesday, Preview Committee; Thursday, Local Council of Women and Junior Chamber of Commerce; Sunday, St. Aidan's Church; Monday, University Women's Club Art Group, Business and Professional Women's Club.

The Film Council will be held March 7, at the Chamber of Commerce committee rooms.

How to Use Meat to Make Breakfasts Hearty

Cold days call for hearty breakfasts, and one of the best ways I've found to make a breakfast substantial is to include some meat in the menu. Here are some favorite winter breakfasts that will also make a special hit for Sunday brunch.

COLD MORNING SPECIAL
Tomato Juice with Lemon Wedge
Hot Apple Pancakes Rolled Around Sausage Links
Warmed Syrup Coffee or Cocoa

APPLE PANCAKES—To 2 cups of prepared pancake flour, add 2 eggs and 1½ cups milk beaten together. Blend well. Stir in 1 cup finely chopped apples and 2 tablespoons melted shortening. Drop by tablespoonfuls onto greased griddle or frying pan. Bake until bubbles break; turn and bake until golden brown. Wrap each pancake around a well-cooked sausage link. Serve hot with warmed syrup. Serves 6.

WAKE UP TO THIS!
Spiced Applesauce with Raisins
Sauteed Kidneys with Mashed Potato Cakes
Buttered Toast
Coffee or Milk

SAUTEED KIDNEYS—Skin, split in half lengthwise, and remove white tubes and tissues from 6 to 12 veal or lamb kidneys. Wash thoroughly. Cut into thin slices and cover with flour, salt and pepper. Saute in drippings about 3 minutes or until browned. Add 1 cup hot water and cook about 5 minutes, or until thickened, stirring constantly. Serve hot. Serves 6.

START THE DAY RIGHT!
Baked Winter Pears
Broiled Lamb Chops and Hashed Brown Potatoes
Toasted English Muffin
Coffee or Milk

HASHED BROWN POTATOES—Melt 3 tablespoons shortening in a heavy frying pan; add 3 cups chopped or finely cut cooked potatoes, heaping them toward the center and away from the edges of the pan; season to taste. Cover with a lid or heavy plate; press down so that cover is right on top of the potatoes. Place a box of salt or rock on top to give pressure. Cook slowly and without turning for 15 to 20 minutes, or until crusty brown. Turn out onto a warm plate. Cut into 4 or 6 pie-shaped wedges to serve

Soviet Charges Nazis Murdered Prisoners As Allies Approached

NUERNBERG (AP)—Russian Prosecutor Col. L. N. Smirnov described to the International Military Tribunal here today the frantic haste with which retreating Nazis are charged with having slaughtered countless thousands of Russian civilians and prisoners of war in 1943.

The withdrawing Nazis sometimes forced their victims to carry wood to a cremation pyre, lie down on it and then be shot, Col. Smirnov said. Immediately, another group of victims was forced to place wood on the corpses and repeat the process and finally, the whole pyre was soaked with gasoline and lighted, he said.

In their haste to close mass graves of persons shot during the earlier phases of the extermination campaign, the Nazis frequently buried or burned their victims alive, the prosecutor said.

Soviet prosecutors told the tribunal 632,253 residents of Leningrad perished of hunger during the 900-day siege of Russia's second largest city by the German army.

An additional 16,747 were reported slain and more than 33,000 wounded by artillery fire and air bombardment. At the height of the siege, the daily ration of bread—the only available food—dropped to about a fifth of an ounce, the Russians said.

The tribunal earlier had denied defence motions for a three-week adjournment of the trial on completion of the prosecution case.

Lord Justice Sir Geoffrey Lawrence, president of the tribunal, said the members felt sufficient time already was available for preparation of the defence and explained that defence counsel would be able to absent themselves from the courtroom much of the time during the remainder of the prosecution for such preparation.

Sir Geoffrey said the tribunal would hear arguments on questions involving the trial of six Nazi organizations indicted as criminal groups as soon as the Russian prosecutors complete their case, probably at the end of this week or early next week.

At the conclusion of these arguments the tribunal will hold hearings on defence applications for summoning witnesses and producing documents required for the defence case.

Sir Geoffrey said these matters would require several days and suggested most of the defence lawyers would be able to use this time in preparation.

McGill to Build Atom Study Plant

CALGARY (CP) — McGill is constructing a $200,000 cyclotron research plant, for atomic research, which will be in operation next summer, Dr. F. Cyril James, principal and vice-chancellor of McGill University, said in an interview here Monday.

It will be the first plant of its kind in Canada and will be the product entirely of Canadian industry. All the others have been built in the United States.

"Atomic research began at McGill," said Dr. James, "when Lord Rutherford was a lecturer in physics there. The apparatus that he used was made out of tin cans and a piece of wire and cost $20."

Deserted Mute Boy Has Parents in B.C.

RED DEER, Alta (CP)— A five-year-old semi-mute boy who has been lost and nameless in the Red Deer training school since last Feb. 2 was identified Monday as Glen Newhouse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin M. Newhouse of Osoyoos, B.C.

Dr. D. L. McCullough, medical superintendent of the Children's Mental Home at Red Deer, said the boy was still at the home and had spent last week-end playing with the other youngsters.

The boy was put into the care of the Provincial Mental Home near Red Deer after he had been found in 28 degrees below zero weather. He was warmly dressed and in one of his rubbers was a note written on a cigarette carton which instructed his finder to place the boy in the Alberta Children's Training School.

Ice Mystery

SEATTLE (AP)—J. E. Gibney heard a terrific crash on the roof of his house early in the morning. When he climbed a ladder to investigate he found a chunk of ice, weighing about 10 or 15 pounds, had fallen on his home.

There was no apparent place above from which it could have fallen and the day was a nice mild one here. Mr. Gibney says it may have fallen from a deicing plane high above—and no one is arguing with him. But someone probably will sooner or later.

Russian Embassy Officials in U.S. Reported 'Unhappy'

WASHINGTON (CP) — Soviet Embassy attaches are reported to be extremely unhappy over the situation created by reports from Ottawa that investigation into alleged leakages of secret information through present and former government employees involved the Russian Embassy in Canada.

There was no denial that Russian agents in Canada, and in the United States, might be seeking information on matters which the Canadian and U.S. governments are reluctant to make generally known, even to their war Allies.

The point was made by Soviet officials that Russian desire to obtain information on atomic and other scientific developments was as natural as the obvious desire of Canada, the United States and the United Kingdom to keep such information secret.

But it was stressed that activities in that direction were not necessarily official, but arose from the enthusiasm of technical experts and army officers attached to Russian missions abroad to compare their own information on these matters with that held by the countries in which they operated.

The Soviet informant was reported to have explained that Russian embassies have a sort of dual set-up with career diplomats on the one hand executing the policies and assignments laid down by the Foreign Office in Moscow, and party representatives who operate on a different level, and with responsibility to the party rather than to the Foreign Office.

The impression given was that the alleged activities, if they existed in fact, should not be interpreted as carrying a sinister significance, but only a logical and legitimate desire to obtain all possible information useful to Soviet progress and well-being.

Routed From Bed In Ottawa's Spy Hunt

OTTAWA (CP)—The Ottawa Morning Journal said today it had "learned" that "a young woman employed in the cipher branch of External Affairs" was among those rounded up in Ottawa early last Friday by Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

The Journal said police "filled a large sachel with papers and a large box with books and papers and took them away with the young woman in a police car." Among books left in the room were Tolstoy's "War and Peace" and "a Russian-English dictionary."

"At about 6 a.m. on Friday," the Journal said, "occupants of the Somerset Street East home were awakened by knocking on the door. 'Don't disturb anyone else in the house,' one of the three plainclothesmen at the door told the head of the house. With them was a policewoman.

"While the other two constables stood guard at the door, the policewoman awakened the young woman and stood by watchfully while she dressed.

"They then searched the room."

Reports circulated here Monday that at least one woman was among those held for questioning at the R.C.M.P. barracks here—headquarters of the government's spy investigation — but, one authority said flatly: "I can't even confirm or deny that."

Vancouver Boosts Police Expenditure

VANCOUVER (CP) — An increase in expenditures of one-third over the 1945 figure, and plans for expansion of police department were revealed Monday when the Vancouver Police Commission submitted its 1946 estimates to the city council.

The commission is requesting more than $1,600,000 for 1946, an increase of $467,000 over last year.

The 1946 estimates provide for:

Addition of 166 to the police force.

Establishment of a special policewomen's division with a Woman inspector and six policewomen.

Purchase of 12 new cars, an auxiliary patrol wagon, 11 new motorcycles and a new police boat.

Soviet Newspapers Carry Spy Report

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet press today published without editorial comment Prime Minister King's statement of last Friday disclosing that employees of a foreign legation in Ottawa had been involved in espionage activities resulting in a leakage of "secret and confidential information."

The press accounts, contained in a Tass news agency dispatch from Ottawa, were limited to the text of Mr. King's statement, which did not indicate what legation was involved. It was the first newspaper mention of the incident here.

The Moscow radio home service carried the Tass dispatch Monday night.

The army newspaper Red Star, meanwhile, published a leading editorial directing regimental commanders and all officers to guard against penetration from alien elements.

"With establishment of order and discipline in units, an officer should constantly remember vigilance," the editorial said. "The manual of internal service binds the command of a regiment to safeguard the regiment from penetration of spies, diversionists, saboteurs and other foes of the people."

Veterans Pool Farms In Saskatchewan

REGINA (CP)—A 16-section plot of Saskatchewan's richest soil will soon become the site of a new experiment in putting the veteran on the land. He's going to try co-operative farming.

Plans for this first venture of its kind in Canada now are nearing completion. When they materialize a model farm in western Saskatchewan will be the testing ground and a score of interested veterans of the Second Great War will be the experimenters. The test will be an adaptation of the share-the-labor, share-the-profit idea to rehabilitation.

The veterans first will go to "school" to learn more about co-op fundamentals and about farm management. Then they will pool their land act grants, with a financial guarantee of Saskatchewan's co-op-minded C.C.F. government.

Their progress in grain will be watched closely by provincial officials.

Provincial officials stress the project is entirely voluntary and "intended for veterans who believe there is a definite economic and social need for co-operative action of this kind."

Canada Invited As U.N.O. Calls For Trade Conference

LONDON (AP) — The United Nations Economic and Social Council, concluding its initial London session, has agreed to summon an international trade conference for the latter part of 1946, and to hold its next meeting in New York, May 25.

Last of the United Nations' bodies to adjourn, the Council appointed committees Monday night to start work immediately on the trade conference, the refugee problem, control of narcotics, and relations with such specialized agencies as the World Federation of Trade Unions, the American Federation of Labor and the International Co-operative Alliance.

Countries named on the committee to prepare for the trade conference, originally proposed by the United States, were Canada, Australia, Belgium, Luxembourg, Brazil, China, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, France, India, Netherlands, New Zealand, Peru, Poland, Britain, Russia, the United States, Jugoslavia, the Soviet Ukraine, Byelo-Russia and Colombia.

The trade conference is expected to discuss reduction of trade barriers, establishment of an international trade organization and international plans for increased employment.

BOGEY OF 'COMPETITION'

THOSE PEOPLE IN CANADA AND IN the United States who are congratulating themselves on the disappearance of German and Japanese world trade competition, presumably for several years, do not seem to realize that two far stronger potential trade rivals, China and Russia, have emerged from the war recently ended. The evidence of history, however, does not support the theory held by the timid ones that all wars are the product of economic conditions.

To be sure, artificial barriers to the free flow of goods between nation and nation have, in the past, helped to prepare the stage on which the tragedy of bungling statesmanship has been played out to the bitter end. But a mental approach to the hazards of life which is befogged by purely material considerations, as well as narrowed by the conviction that competition is an evil to be eradicated—instead of a virtue to be encouraged—has no legitimate role in the new world envisaged by the United Nations Charter. Such a mentality has the outlook of the monopolist which it always so strenuously condemns; and until it realizes that the ideas it holds so tenaciously are reactionary, that they tend to decrease world trade, temporarily inflate domestic markets, and finally bring about catastrophe—until it recognizes these factors for what they are, the task of the subscribers to the San Francisco document is bound to be a difficult one.

Despite Generalissimo Stalin's recent speech—in which, by the way, he did not mention the United Nations or the organization's hopes—and the pronouncements of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, it will require years of hard and self-sacrificing work on the part of all the Russians and all the Chinese to build up in their respective countries an industrial civilization which will enable them to compete in world markets to the extent which, for example, Germany and Japan did in the prewar era. And it should not be forgotten that up to the war of 1914-1918 the United States herself was a debtor nation; so that it surely can be understood that the chief objective which both Russia and China are setting themselves is the raising of the standard of living of their own peoples. To do that as quickly and as effectively as possible, moreover, they must import those articles they cannot manufacture and in exchange export what they can produce.

This means an enormous expansion of the export market for the more highly-industrialized nations—provided they show their willingness to trade on fair terms, terms which are decided by competitive exchange. In other words, it is high time these eternal fears of competition proving ruinous—unless legislation is enacted to prevent a competitor making any money—disappeared in an appropriate understanding of what trade really means.

CULTURAL GROWTH

IT WILL BE A SOURCE OF CONSIDERable satisfaction to those interested in things cultural to note the increasing attention being given by this community to Victoria artists. Following by a few weeks the exhibition of Mr. A. M. D. Fairbairn's work, our citizens are now invited to view that of Mr. Jack Shadbolt. Within a few days, moreover, the Oak Bay Community Centre Art Club will sponsor a series of Friday evening lectures on the subject "How to Look at Pictures."

These developments, doubtless benefiting from the impetus given to the subject by the late Emily Carr's achievements, speak well for the increasing appreciation here of talents being revealed by some of our more gifted citizens. They represent, too, the expression of a growing maturity in critical faculties and a healthy aspiration toward the finer things of life represented by art.

It might as well, as a means of encouraging this desirable trend, for the city to examine its current by-laws to determine to what extent it can foster growth in this field. It can hardly be the desire of the civic administration to curb ability or minimize its rewards in the field of creative genius.

MR. TRUMAN'S WORRIES

TO BE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED States at the best of times is no sinecure. To follow Franklin Delano Roosevelt, even on the eve of Allied victory, was enough to frighten to death one less courageous than the former Senator from Missouri—Harry S. Truman. But the present chief executive seems to have gone out of his way to multiply his difficulties. He has progressively parted with practically all of his predecessor's stalwarts. Now that Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes has departed the ship, he is left with only one of the old crew in a responsible cabinet position—Mr. Henry Wallace.

Whether Mr. Ickes has oversimplified his reason for relinquishing his post, or whether there are deeper political considerations than are included in his 3,000-word communication to the President, is a matter on which there is considerable speculation. But it is abundantly clear that the ex-Secretary of the Interior was implacably opposed to the selection of Mr. Edwin W. Pauley for the job of Undersecretary of the United States Navy. For whatever else may be said of blunt and forthright Harold Ickes, his probity in public office has gone unchallenged; and he objects to any association with the "oil man" whom he charges with attempts to influence him as a member of the President's cabinet and by reason of his position as Secretary of the Interior. Mr. Ickes has not forgotten the history of Hardingism and, in particular, the fact that the Republican President's incumbent of that office went to jail for bowing to the importunities of special pleaders interested in "liquid fuel."

Small wonder, then, if Mr. Truman is wishing that he had never permitted his name to go before the Democratic convention in the summer of 1944 as a candidate for the Vice-Presidency. Those familiar with his hopes and aspirations at that time are convinced that he would have preferred to remain a Senator. In the Upper Chamber at Washington, it will be recalled, he was thoroughly at home, popular with Democrats and Republicans alike, while as head of the Committee of Investigation into war expenditures he was the recipient of the warmest possible tributes from all who knew and understood the conscientious work he put into the task which eventually culminated in the famous Truman Report.

THE 'IDEA' OF A 'LOBBY'

ADVANCE NOTICES PUBLISHED IN the newspapers indicate that Labor intends to invade the legislative halls across James Bay with the most impressive "lobby" in the history of trades unionism in British Columbia. Nor is the Coalition government likely to raise any objection to this procedure; only by listening to both sides of a question can the public and its elected representatives arrive at the facts.

It is quite elementary to remark that the "idea" of a "lobby" is to exercise pressure on the members of a legislature to pass legislation which is favorable to the particular group or interest on whose behalf the "lobby" is conducted. That group, conceivably, may consider such legislation to be beneficial to the whole community represented in the legislature; but primarily it is concerned with its own interest. The "idea" of the members of a legislature, however, is to legislate for the benefit of the community, and as there are honest differences of opinion regarding what is or is not beneficial, there is always bound to be opposition. And the question, in a democracy, of course, is left to the majority of the legislature to decide. The "lobby," therefore, has to persuade the majority that the requests it makes are in the interests of the entire community. It must furnish proofs. And since "the proof of the pudding is in the eating thereof," the pudding has to be properly cooked before it is eaten. This needs an adequate understanding of the ingredients which go into the pudding.

President Truman and his experts have been trying to write a recipe for these components for weeks—in order to settle the "strikes" of certain groups so that the pudding can be produced. The objective of the formula or recipe is to keep down prices and raise wages; but finally it has been decided that both are to be raised under certain conditions based on facts. The difficulty is that these facts differ in every industry. So it has been decided to appoint a board of three prominent nonpolitical experts to ascertain the facts in each case brought to the attention of the board. These experts can advise the legislators as to the facts. It is then up to the legislators to recommend what action can be taken. The point is that both legislators and "lobbies" have to face the facts of which public opinion can be properly advised. Experts can save legislators a lot of time, the "lobbies" a lot of money, and enable public opinion to be guided more by its intelligence than by its emotions.

ELECTION MAY EVEN BE FAIR

APPARENTLY ONLY ONE PERSON was wounded during the week-end's pre-election excitement in Argentina when more than 200 shots were exchanged between the campaign train of presidential candidate Dr. Jose Tamborini and "political hoodlums." The doctor's opponent, would-be dictator Colonel Juan Peron, fearing assassination attempts, has repaired to rural sections, since he has ended his campaign proper in Buenos Aires. So far, however, the erstwhile power behind the Farrell regime has not published his "blue and white book" in reply to the American "blue book," whose charges of Nazi activity may or may not have won converts for Peron's opponent in next Sunday's elections.

While Dr. Tamborini is sponsored by the Democratic Union, his chief supporters hail from a hodge-podge of parties: Socialists, Communists and most Conservatives. It is also to be noted that Democratic newspapers—and the Argentine has some of the best-edited in the world—have taken up the cry, condemning Peron as a Nazi tool. In view of the charges against the latter, and the wide publicity which has been given to them, observers in Buenos Aires and elsewhere in this important Latin American republic are suggesting that the election may even be a fair one. The world will soon know.

I never criticize the government of my country abroad. I very rarely leave off criticizing it at home.—Winston Churchill, former British Prime Minister.

Solution In Unity

By MAURICE WESTERN

BERLIN.

FAR-REACHING decisions on the four-power level in Berlin should provide by Easter time an effective answer to the question: "Can we do business with the Russians?" The high drama of international conferences—typified by the duel between Bevin and Vishinsky in London—where considerations of power politics and prestige cut across every issue, tends to obscure opportunities for fruitful collaboration on an economic plane which do undoubtedly exist.

Here in Berlin, despite the generally unfavorable political climate of Europe, we are in fact doing business with the Russians on a vast scale. Our business consists in salvaging a society of 65,000,000 people. The record is to be read in the day to day administrative regulations and military government decisions which are providing food, clothing, shelter and transport services, infusing life into a dying economy, creating free trade conditions between various zones, maintaining order in wages and price levels, warding off inflation, policing and denazifying the Reich.

THIS IS A BIG business and, on the whole, a successful business, but no bigger than its opportunities. For while the initial threat of anarchy has been warded off there remains the looming danger of an inflation which might wreck the whole economy and sabotage a vitally important experiment in international government.

It is a race against time, for the black markets and the loss of confidence in the Reichmark tell their own story. That is why a sense of urgency pervades military government officials here, major decisions afford considerable evidence that the four powers, which seldom agree on political diagnoses, are near agreement on fundamental economic diagnoses.

IT IS NOW quite clear that governments must drastically curtail expenditures and increase taxation. The average German, whose tax bill has been far below that of his British counterpart, will at last come face to face with the costs of war. He won't like it and his misery will be increased by the drastic limitations on German economy—steel is the best example—which will inevitably cut the work of reconstruction to tortoise speed.

People who complain of excessive softness toward the Germans may change their tune when agreed measures now pending are publicized.

THE RECENT agreement on the exchange of information with regard to past and future currency issues may be taken to indicate a general realization of the dangers implicit in the flood of reichmarks now loose in Germany. There seems little doubt the currency in actual circulation is now four or five times as great as before the war and the continued influx from the borderlands aggravates the situation.

Nevertheless, despite rumors that Russians are recklessly abusing the printing presses in their zone, I found no evidence on a tour of Mark Brandenburg that this is the case. If runaway inflation has so far been avoided in Germany the explanation probably lies in the rigidity of price controls and in the carryover of disciplined habits bullied into the Germans by long years of iron-handed dictatorship.

IN THE RUSSIAN zone Germans complain of hardships caused by the blocking of bank deposits dating from war days, regardless of the political record of the depositor. In the British zone there is no such restriction and it may be noted that despite this liberal policy, Germans of the west have continued to deposit more than they withdraw.

But the real nightmare overhanging Germany is the Reich debt contracted by the Hitler regime. This runs about 10 times the national income of the year 1935 and the country can only be considered solvent if government paper, which forms the real basis of the banking system, is given some sort of validity. This is a problem for the Russians, as well as for the Anglo-Americans, since the Soviet authorities have maintained a system of private banking in their zone and have even agreed on a system of interbank clearings across zonal frontiers.

IN DEFAULT, however, of a general agreement on monetary issues there will inevitably be four Germanies, based on four currencies, regardless of political decisions elsewhere. Yet some of the most serious disagreements arise, not from Russian, but from French obstruction.

There is at the moment no Reich budget but the various provinces, by a most unsatisfactory system, jointly contribute to expenses at the centre. Proposals for a central government finance ministry have so far met with stubborn French resistance.

BRIEF NOTE

From the Printed Word

Good writers, in contrast to speakers, strive to condense their thoughts, but few achieve the ideal of which Laurence Housman gives an example in his reminiscences.

One of his friends, an Irish lady, after a prolonged illness had all her teeth extracted and went to Italy to recuperate. Her new teeth were to be forwarded when ready.

A few weeks later she wrote to Housman, telling him that her health was much improved and that the new teeth had reached her safely. In his answering letter, Housman advised her: "Be sure not to wear your teeth when you go bathing."

By return mail came a postcard with the plaintive query: "Why didn't you telegraph?"

GLOBAL SURVEY

KRUPP PALACE STANDS WHILE FIRM DISAPPEARS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press World Traveler

ESSEN, Germany (AP)—Just outside this bomb-devastated city that was the home of the Krupp armament works — for generations the world's greatest producer of instruments of war—there is an extraordinary monument to rapacity and ruthlessness.

This is the baronial palace of the Krupps, known as the Villa Hugel. It is the last word in wanton lavishness and its estimated cost runs into millions of dollars.

This House of Krupp was created from the profits of war piled up through the generations, and in this sense it was built on the bodies of men who died in battle that Krupp's might prosper.

History pins the responsibility for much of German aggression during the past century on Krupp's and it will be history which will tell us how many conflicts that firm fed among Germany's neighbors.

It was Alfred Krupp, founder of the firm, who provided the sinews of war for Germany's onslaught against France in 1870. It was Krupp's which carried Kaiser Wilhelm on its back to near victory over the Allies in the First Great War. And it was Krupp's that was one of the main contributors—perhaps the main one—to Hitler's all but successful attempt to conquer Europe.

The huge and lofty baronial hall is a record of the pride of the Krupp's, for its oaken walls—one of its really beautiful features—are covered with lifesize portraits of various members of the family. There is one large group, including Gustav Krupp von Bohlen und Holbach, present head of the house who is too ill to stand trial before the war crimes court in Nuernberg, and his wife Bertha, whose passport to glory is the fact that her name was given to Big Bertha, the enormous Krupp gun with which the Germans shelled Paris in the First Great War from a distance of about 75 miles. This picture also shows their son, Alfred, named after his grandfather who founded the firm. Young Krupp is being held by the Allies.

One could write a book about the Villa Hugel, but the purpose of this article is to draw attention to an aspect of German aggression which we don't see emphasized fully enough. This is that militarism has been supported by and encouraged by the Titan armament firm of Krupp, which has been the motor of the war machine.

Letters To The Editor

WOMEN AND JOBS

On behalf of the Victoria Labor Council, I wish, through the columns of your paper, to extend our thanks to Mrs. Nancy Hodges for the capable manner in which she has taken up the cudgel on behalf of women's right to work. If more of our parliamentary representatives would raise this question, it would be a most welcome change from the old stereotyped approach that has in the past been taken on the status of women.

The slogan, "a woman's place is in the home, or the kitchen," savors of the Nazi approach to their version of sex equality.

The second World War was fought in order to guarantee all people the right to live in a land of freedom and democracy. Does this mean that women should be excluded from participating in the affairs of our country, whether it be in industry or in a career, or in the home. Maxim Litvinoff, an outstand- Soviet diplomat, once made the statement: "Peace is indivisible." This has been later extended in statements such as "Prosperity is indivisible," "Freedom is indivisible." Does this mean that the right to freedom, prosperity and equality are confined to that section of our population who are men? No! Women are working in industry from their own choice. They made a marvelous contribution to the winning of the war through their efforts in industry. Women are going to remain in industry from now on.

We of the Victoria Labor Council, representing a large section of organized labor in this area, will fight for their right to work, if they choose.

R. MEZGER, Sec.-Treas.
Victoria Labor Council.

Newlyweds to Live In Los Angeles

On Saturday, Feb. 15 at 8 in St. Stephen's Church, Saanichton, Rev. John A. Partridge performed the marriage ceremony of Corinne Mabel, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Young, Saanichton, V.I., and Wayne Loyd Garrett, eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Garrett of Joplin, Miss.

Escorted by her father the bride entered the church wearing a white taffeta gown with floor length skirt, fitted bodice with high neckline, net bertha collar and long lily-point sleeves. An heirloom veil of rose-point lace was caught to her head with a wreath of lily-of-the-valley and white satin ribbon. Her only ornament was the groom's gift, a gold bracelet set with sparkling goldstones which had been his father's gift to his mother on their wedding day. She carried a shower bouquet of pink rosebuds and freesias.

The church was decorated with tulips, white narcissi, plum blossom and other spring flowers. During the ceremony Miss J. Duncan sang "O Perfect Love."

Miss Beverly Young, a sister of the bride, in dusty pink sheer and Miss Marjorie Leno in blue sheer were the bridesmaids. Their gowns were fashioned alike and they wore identical beauty caps held with tiny net veils. Tulips, carnations and heather were in their bouquets.

The bride's brother, Arthur Young, acted as groomsman and the ushers were Frank Pomeroy and Gordon Mounce.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. E. T. Watson, 3360 Quadra Street, where Mrs. Young and Mrs. Ray Cavanee of Los Angeles, aunt of the groom assisted the young couple in receiving their guests. The bride's uncle, J. Dresser, proposed a toast to her health and happiness.

For their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Garrett are motoring to Los Angeles where they expect to make their home.

For traveling the bride wore a turquoise blue dress, muskrat coat, blue hat and accessories and a gardenia corsage bouquet.

Jewish Doctor Tells Of Refugees' Plight

Dr. Anne Samuelsdorff of Palestine, representative of the Women's International Zionist Organization, was in Victoria Monday in the course of a two-month speaking tour across Canada. She addressed the Victoria Jewish Community in their centre Sunday evening and will speak in Calgary tonight.

Commenting on the news of the threatened suicide of refugee Jews unless they are allowed to go to Palestine, Dr. Samuelsdorff said:

"We want to save all those who are still destitute and suffering in Europe and who want to come to live among their people in Palestine. We hope U.N.O. will come to the realization that justice has to be done to a people whose sacrifices have been greater in proportion than any other people. They ask for nothing more than to live in their own country in peace and security."

Dr. Samuelsdorff, who came to Canada at the invitation of Canadian Hadassah, a branch of W.I.Z.O., has lived in Tel-Aviv, Palestine, for 13 years. One of her sons is a pioneer in a collective agricultural settlement and another is training to become an engineer.

A member of the W.I.Z.O. committee for the care of women and child immigrants, Dr. Samuelsdorff told of the way they look after widows whose husbands were choked in the gas chambers of Poland, who lost everything and who arrive in Palestine with nothing but a little photo of their children, not knowing whether they are alive or dead. Thousands of these unhappy women have been settled through undergoing courses which teach art and crafts. Articles produced by these women are sold in the four cities of Palestine and the first class workmanship has a large export value.

"Through 'Youth-Aliyah' meaning youth immigration," Dr. Samuelsdorff said, "We have brought into Palestine thousands of children and saved them from certain death at the hands of Nazi persecutors. They arrive in Palestine starved, wrecked and reduced in body, many of them not knowing their name or age."

A Delighted Young Lady

Today, throughout the country there will be many happy smiles like this for nylons by leading Canadian manufacturers go on sale for the first time since nylon yarn was diverted to essential military uses.

These first postwar nylon stockings will be sold quickly and not every woman in Victoria will succeed in getting a pair but the producers say those who are left stockingless this time need not despair.

Before long there will be a steady flow of nylon hosiery reaching retail stores across the Dominion. Then anyone who wants a pair of these longed-for stockings will be able to buy them.

Victoria women will find postwar nylon stockings considerably improved over the first nylons that were produced early in the war. New knitting techniques, especially suited to the distinct character of nylon yarn, have been evolved. Postwar nylons will not be "just nylons," they will have new features, such as "balanced fabric," which describes one Canadian manufacturer's new method of distributing wearing strain so as to prolong the life of the stocking.

For awhile there will be a limited number of colors and gauges, for each mill is restricted to two shades of stockings.

Swedish Prince Weds Commoner

NEW YORK (AP) — Prince Carl Johan of Sweden has a flood of reasons why he renounced his rights to the throne to wed Mrs. Kerstin Wijkmark, copper-haired commoner, and he sums them all up in six words. "I just love her, that's all."

That's what the 29-year-old Prince said as they sat in the Manhattan apartment he had rented.

The chic 35-year-old woman, six years his senior, for whom he renounced his title and rights to the throne, was present at the interview.

Prince Carl and Mrs. Wijkmark will be married today at an interdenominational church.

Both the Prince and his bride emphasized that renunciation of the Prince's royal claims did not mean exile, or that the King frowned on the wedding.

They expect to make their home in America, but the Prince expects to return to Sweden on a business trip about once a year.

Six years ago, at a party, she met the Prince, who is the youngest son of Crown Prince Gustav Adolph, and was fourth in line for the throne. Court etiquette prevented his making dates and appearing alone in public with a lady, so he arranged parties to which Mrs. Wijkmark was invited.

The Prince arrived in New York about a month ago. Mrs. Wijkmark followed last week.

Both are going to work. The Prince will open New York offices for the Anglo-Nordic Trading Company, a Scandinavian firm. His bride expects to do free-lance articles on North America for Swedish magazines.

Plan Special Council Meeting On Traffic By-Law Changes

The city council will meet in committee of the whole to consider the extensive recommendations made by Chief of Police J. A. McLellan and the police commission for amendments to traffic control by-laws, it was decided at Monday's city council meeting.

Ald. J. A. Worthington suggested that the public should be invited to attend the meeting and bring suggestions, but this was felt unwise until after the council has had an opportunity to consider and discuss the questions. The public works committee will check the proposed changes prior to the committee of the whole meeting and make any recommendations affecting its branch of city administration.

After considerable debate it was decided to reserve two lots on Hillside Ave. near Cook Street and dedicate them as a playground. The decision was made after several letters were read from citizens of the area protesting the erection of an apartment house at Cook Street and Hillside Avenue because it encroaches on lots which have been used by children for playground purposes.

Ald. R. A. C. Dewar, chairman of the lands committee, proposed the dedication because there are no playground facilities for children of that neighborhood. Ald. J. A. Worthington, Ald. B. J. Gadsden, and Ald. W. L. Morgan all opposed the dedication because they said the area might in years to come be a business district and it would then require a vote of the ratepayers to remove the land from park reserve and make it saleable again.

The third floor of the city hall will again be opened for offices, it was decided, with $500 being spent for heating and alterations so that some of the staff of the city engineer's department may be accommodated up there. It has been used purely for storage purposes for some time.

LAND SALES

Sale of 29 parcels of land, 12 of them to veterans, for $11,077.50 was approved by the council. In addition the sale of six lots on the south side of Belleville Street between Douglas and Blanshard streets for $18,000 was approved and the land taken from the reserve list. Ald. Dewar assured the council that a suitable type of building would be erected there.

A grant of $5,000 was approved to the transportation committee so that E. S. Farr may be hired to act as an expert advisor to the committee of officials appointed to draw up plans and specifications for the call for tenders on a unified transportation system for Greater Victoria.

Ald. Worthington protested that it was too much money, but Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the transportation committee, explained that the committee of officials had neither the time nor the necessary qualifications to sift all the information available and compete with experts employed by the transportation companies. He insisted that it was only by being prepared to spend sufficient money to hire the best talents available could results be expected.

As the council passed the necessary resolution, Ald. Worthington could be heard muttering, "He still didn't tell us what he wants the money for."

HOUSE BOATS

Promise of early action, if the council so desired it, on the matter of moving the houseboats which have long been a sore point with city health officials at the foot of Erie Street, was given in a letter from R. W. Mayhew, M.P. The matter was turned over to the health and harbor committees for action.

Support of the Victoria Minor Hockey Association in financing trips to Nanaimo for games and for practice because there is no arena in Victoria on which they can play and practice, was promised. The amount was left to the discretion of the finance committee, after it was ascertained how far in the playoffs the Victoria team would go.

The city hall employees' association requested that no new salary schedule be incorporated in a by-law until after their association had been given an opportunity of checking it.

On the recommendation of the fire wardens the matter of a site for a new fire hall on Pandora Street was referred to the Town Planning Commission.

There was immediate dissension when it was suggested that the Pandora, Blanshard, Amelia Street site be used, with Ald. Williams insisting that it should be reserved for the new city hall, and the mayor and Ald. Worthington suggesting that it would be a good spot for the new library.

A detailed plan to provide for the installation of water main extensions to consumers outside the city and Esquimalt was approved for submission to the Public Utilities commission on recommendation of the water board.

Expenditure were approved of $245 for a new ditto machine; of $150 for Union of B.C. Municipalities membership; and of $250 as an advance to the 24th of May celebration committee.

On the recommendation of Ald. F. G. Mulliner, president of the B.C. School Trustees' Association, it was decided not to approve the resolution submitted by Langley asking that the provincial government bear 100 per cent of education costs.

The plan for $100,000 five-year improvements to the street-lighting system was referred to the estimates committee on recommendation of Ald. Mulliner, chairman of the street lighting committee. The expenditure of $1,500 for repairs to the underground cable system was approved.

The tender of $1,414 from W. R. Menzies and Co. for instalation of an oil burner in the city police station was accepted. Ald. Morgan claimed that the saving in fuel costs over a five-year period would pay for the new heating unit.

The finance committee reported that the council had no power to set up a civic civil service commission as requested by the Victoria Labor Council.

Launch Inquiry Into Mystery Of Missing City Wood

The puzzle of the alleged missing 250 cords of city-owned wood from the Garbally Road yard is still one of the major mysteries at the city hall, although Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the fuel committee, assured Monday's council meeting that he had the matter well in hand and a written report on the whole matter would be forthcoming soon.

Ald. B. J. Gadsden moved that a report be made on the matter so that the public would know how, if or why the wood was missing.

Ald. Diggon immediately replied that comptroller D. A. Macdonald had been instructed to look into the matter and make a full report and that bookkeepers had been working on it for several days, checking back bills, invoices, etc. for the past several years to trace the wood.

Ald. W. L. Morgan, who made the original statement that the wood was missing two weeks ago said that he knew the full facts but he would like to have Mr. Macdonald present with his figures before launching into the report which would take 20 minutes to recite.

To Ald. Edward Williams' outright question, "Where is the wood?" Ald. Morgan answered, "Gone up in smoke."

At which Ald. Gadsden complained that he too was a member of the fuel committee and should have been informed of the investigation. Ald. Diggon claimed he had so informed Ald. Gadsden, and it is expected that the full report will be available at the next council meeting.

Chlorination Issue Causes Flare-Up Among Aldermen

The chlorination issue caused another brief flare at Monday's council meeting with Ald. Edward Williams and Ald. J. A. Worthington speaking on the side of purification of the water, and Ald. W. L. Morgan, Mayor Percy George and Ald. B. J. Gadsden joining the ranks of the anti-chlorinationists.

Ald. Morgan felt that because the vote of the electorate several years ago opposed chlorination, the council's duty was plain to discontinue the purification of the water as soon as the agreement with the federal government terminated.

Ald. Williams questioned if such an expression of opinion was mandatory, and went on to tell of the meeting of film forum Friday when it was brought out by one of the speakers that the drinking of 20 glasses of water daily, for 20 years would only mean the intake of one ounce of chlorine, a much smaller quantity of the element than is contained in the salt the average person consumes in the same period, and yet the infinitesimal amount of chlorine purifies the water, he pointed out. He also stated that 82 per cent of the North American continent drinks chlorinated water.

Ald. Gadsden insisted that this proved nothing because one whiff of the pure gas would kill a man.

Ald. Worthington asked that the discussion be tabled until the data of the medical investigation now going on is brought before the council. He insisted, however, that with highways and a railway going through the watershed contamination was possible at any time.

Mayor George, however, pointed out that the roads and trains had been there for 30 to 40 years.

Wants $50 Lots For Ex-Servicemen

A request that city-owned lots be sold to ex-servicemen for $50 within a year of their discharge, or alternatively for 12½ per cent of assessed value, instead of the present 25 per cent of assessed value, was made in a letter from R. Clarke of 1515 Haultain to the city council Monday.

In his letter Mr. Clarke pointed out that for some time during the war years civilians were permitted to buy city lots for $50, and that 25 per cent of the assessed value in nearly all cases is far above this figure. He felt, in his letter, that "any ex-serviceman who intends to build a home for himself should have the privilege of purchasing a lot for $50 as others at home have been able to do."

He also suggested that should the request be granted, any ex-serviceman who has bought a lot at a price over the $50 should have the difference refunded to him.

The letter was referred to the lands and zoning committee.

City to Pay $7,640 For Grandstand

Ald. D. D. McTavish, chairman of the parks committee, recommended to Monday's city council meeting that the city undertake to pay $7,640.50 as its share of the new construction to be undertaken on the grandstand of Royal Athletic Park.

At a meeting of the parks committee officials of the Victoria Baseball and Athletic Co. Ltd., said that the lowest tender for the job has been $14,067 from Parfitt Construction Co., and the agreement was that each would bear half the cost. They recommended that this tender be accepted and the parks committee concurred.

Other agreed expenditures, such as the widening of the front aisle at a cost of $1,000 which is to be paid in full by the city, brought the city's share of the expenditure up to $7,640, Ald. McTavish explained.

The parks committee also agreed with the Local Council of Women, Ald. McTavish said, that no concessions can be granted in Beacon Hill Park, such as the establishment of a miniature golf course which was received recently.

Victoria Grades Library Staff

Librarians, like teachers, in Victoria are now being graded, the Victoria Public Library Board having notified C. K. Morison, superintendent of the Public Library Commission, it has adopted a system of standardization of grading in accordance with regulations set up by the provincial government.

Provincial regulations, passed by order-in-council more than a year ago, provide certificate grades from 1 to 3. The regulations are not mandatory. It is optional to librarians whether they apply to be graded.

British Columbia was the first province of Canada to standardize librarians.

Substitute Teacher Shortage in City

Victoria is facing a shortage of substitute teachers, J. F. K. English, municipal inspector of schools, said today. During the war years the substitute ranks were filled mainly by married women who were former teachers and whose husbands were at war. Now with the men returning to civilian life, many of these substitute teachers are either moving away or removing their names from the substitute lists to take up full-time housekeeping, Mr. English said.

Accounting to Public Sought On Memorial Arena Progress

City Council members agreed at Monday's meeting that the time has come when a full accounting should be given the citizens of Victoria on the exact state of progress of the Memorial Arena, and that fullest publicity should be given this interim report.

The matter came up in discussion of the ratification of the contract between Charles T. Hamilton, engineer in charge of the installation of the patented barrel-type roof for the arena, and the city.

Ald. Edward Williams declared "The time has come when we must have action on the arena. Criticism is rampant around town, and a lot of it is justified."

Ald R. A. C. Dewar, chairman of the arena committee, announced that test holes, which have been taken during the past six weeks on the site, will be completed this week and all data forwarded to Mr. Hamilton so that he can go ahead with the plans and specifications ready for the call for tenders.

He stressed that there had been no delay since the start of the year but that wet weather had held up getting test holes, which are supposed to be done dry, and that men had been working night and day with pumps to keep the holes pumped out.

Ald. Williams explained exactly how the test holes were taken, and what was the purpose of taking them, so that the exact size of footings could be ascertained.

Ald. J. D. Hunter insisted that the time had arrived when all publicity possible should be given to the state of the arena, and how it is to be financed. Ald. F. G. Mulliner seconded this suggestion, saying that the public is entitled to an interim report.

Under the terms of the contract which was ratified by the council, Mr. Hamilton agrees to furnish design service, construction advice and inspection for the erection of the "Z-D monolithic barrel shell roof, including its foundation and supports and to work in conjunction with the associate architects," D. James, H. Savage, and D. C. Frame.

The building is to have a main area of 280 feet by 165 feet, with annexes 20 feet by 88 feet area size, and eight stiffening concrete arches regularly spaced.

Mr. Hamilton agreed, for the sum of $10,187, to furnish all the necessary plans and specifications, approved general and detail drawings for the roof, footings, supporting arches, columns and to supervise their construction.

He will also be responsible for directing necessary steel and concrete tests and its ingredients, the reasonable costs of which are to be borne by the city.

Seventy-five per cent of the fee is to be paid when sufficient number of copies of working drawings and specifications, acceptable for construction have been furnished the city or architects, and the remainder in installments as the work proceeds. Fifteen per cent will be paid 31 days after all work is completed.

The necessary forms for the registration of the arena fund under the War Charities Act have also been completed by A. J. Patton, city solicitor, and were ratified by the council.

Mr. Patton explained that the registration was necessary because $65,000 is being held by the city, which was raised by public contribution and turned over by the citizens' arena committee.

My Backache Gradually Disappeared"

Could any woman tell a happier story about backache than this:

"About 6 weeks ago I started having awful pains in my back. At times I could not straighten myself and I got depressed and worn out. I could scarcely carry on with my household duties and everything was being neglected. It was then I saw a Kruschen advertisement and I decided to give Kruschen a trial. I started by faithfully taking a small teaspoonful in hot water in the morning, and in three weeks—my word, what a difference! The pains gradually disappeared and though I am now 46, I really feel years younger."—Mrs. H. M.

There is always a cause of backache; and in many cases it can be traced to toxins or poisons, which stay in the system instead of being eliminated. And that is where Kruschen saline treatment can be of real help to you. Kruschen is a balanced combination of mineral salts . . . and its action is to help your organs of elimination. By taking Kruschen faithfully for a few weeks . . . as Mrs. H. M. did . . . many people have found joyous relief from wearisome backaches and rheumatic pains. The Kruschen saline treatment costs so little to try . . . Use it in your own case. Kruschen has helped others. Why shouldn't it help you? All drug stores have Kruschen at 25c. and 75c.

Symphony Gets $700 To Play Concerts At Beacon Hill

After considerable discussion, some of it acrimonious, City Council Monday decided to grant $700 to the Victoria Symphony Orchestra on the understanding that the orchestra would present several Sunday afternoon concerts this summer at Beacon Hill Park.

Ald Edward Williams, chairman of the finance committee, stressed that the orchestra was mainly composed of volunteers, and that they did a good work promoting the cultural life of Victoria. He pointed out that other cities gave large grants in support of symphonies.

Ald. D. D. McTavish, chairman of the parks committee, supported the grant on the understanding that it would in no way cut into the grant for cheer-up concerts at the park.

Ald. J. A. Worthington, another member of the parks committee, however, took strong exception to the proposed grant, contending that the finance committee was attempting to usurp the powers of the parks committee and interfere in the administration of the parks.

Ald. Margaret D. Christie was doubtful about giving it because it would establish a precedent and other similar musical organizations might feel that they too should have similar grants.

Ald. W. L. Morgan was another who supported the grant, and he insisted that any musical institution which did as much for the cultural life of Victoria should have similar support. "We need more cultural activities here," he declared. "They are all good for us."

Ald. H. M. Diggon, in supporting the grant, said he believed that the International Drama Festival, which is to be staged here Aug. 5 to 10 would be asking for a grant of $500.

Finally the grant was passed, with only Ald. Worthington dissenting.

Says 4,000,000 Canadians Hold Insurance Policies

Insurance payments to policyholders and beneficiaries in 1945 in Canada totaled $160,000,000 and during the war years the payments reached $1,000,000, R. L. Foster, K.C., general counsel for Canadian Life Insurance Officers' Association, Toronto, told the Victoria Gyro Club at luncheon in the Empress Hotel Monday.

Mr. Foster's address was entitled "Your Life Insurance Company." He said 4,000,000 individual Canadians carry life insurance policies with one or more of the 50-odd life insurance companies which have business in force in Canada. Canadians, he said, own $850 of life insurance per head of population—men, women and children.

Thirty million dollars were paid to beneficiaries of Canadians who died overseas in the service of their country in World War II.

"Life insurance is 'big business' because the business it transacts is for its millions of policy holders. It is a co-operative plan by which a large number of people provide against the uncertainties of life on a risk-sharing basis," the speaker explained.

NEVER LOST A DOLLAR

Mr. Foster declared that no policyholder in a Canadian life insurance company has ever lost a dollar through failure of a company to pay what was guaranteed to him under his policy.

He said he had heard people say that life insurance companies have "too much money!"

"Have they?" he asked. "At the end of 1945 Canadian insurance companies had undertaken to pay in the future more than 10 billion dollars to policyholders the world over. They had on hand, and invested, at that time nearly three and a half billion dollars. This amount together with premiums and interest to be received in the future, will provide money necessary to pay sums promised under all outstanding insurance contracts. There is the answer; companies must have large funds on hand now so that they can meet their own larger obligations to their policyholders in the future."

He said "monopoly" is a word which can never be truthfully applied to insurance business in this country. "Canadian, British and United States companies are doing business, and anyone who lets it be known that he is the market for additional life insurance knows just how keen competition is.

Canadian companies have been more active abroad than have British and U.S. companies in Canada, said Mr. Foster. Today, about 43 per cent of their premium income is from outside Canada. The life insurance companies of no other country do such a large part of their business outside their own country.

The speaker said that in 1939 Canadian companies were carrying on business in 64 different countries, in some of which they are just resuming activities after a period of suspension made necessary by the war.

"Our Canadian companies must be pretty good to do such a business abroad in competition with non-Canadian companies," Mr. Foster opined.

Victoria-Esquimalt Health Union By-Law Gets First Reading

The by-law approving the agreement between Esquimalt and the city for the union of health services between the two received its first reading at Monday's city council meeting. A by-law worded the same way will come before the Esquimalt municipal council at its next meeting, Ald. J. D. Hunter, chairman of the city health committee, reported to the council.

Reeve Thomas Hadfield of Esquimalt said today that a special meeting of the Esquimalt council would be called Wednesday afternoon to give the by-law its first reading, and that it would receive its final reading at the next regular meeting of the council.

In the preamble to the agreement, it is set out that both councils have entered into agreements with their school boards for the transfer to the Union Board of Health, the administration and carrying out of the health services in the schools.

All expenses are to be paid by the treasurer of Victoria, and Esquimalt is to pay into Victoria 9 per cent of all expenses, including salaries, incurred by the Union Board of Health. These payments are to be made quarterly.

Symphony Orchestra Scores Another Triumph

By AUDREY ST.D. JOHNSON

A capacity audience attended Monday night's concert by the Victoria Symphony Orchestra at the Royal Victoria Theatre, and repeated demonstrating its delight in the fine performnce of the all-request program.

The second concert in this season's series proved to be another triumph for conductor and orchestra. The continued improvement and development under the baton of Melvin Knudsen was particularl noticeable in parts of the "New World" symphony, in the "Finlandia," and in the overture "Marriage of Figaro."

The major work, the Dvorak symphony, "From the New World," thrilled one as much with the tremendous promise it presented for the future as with the expressive beauty and musical sincerity of the present. In the introduction, the rich, dark tone of the celli, viola and double bass instantly created the mood of enduring sadness that permeates the whole symphony; a mood, however, which is often shot through with gleams of light and moments of brilliance, as in the third movement, the Scherzo, where the woodwinds have some exquisite passages. These were played with great suppleness and sweetness of tone.

The beautiful and familiar "Largo" was especially successful. The plaintive melody known in song as "Going Home," carried by alto oboe against an accompaniment of muted strings, was stated with a gentle simplicity that emphasized the nostalgic mood and the melancholy tonal quality of the instrument.

HIGHLY POLISHED

Honors for the evening's most excellent performance must go to the Sibelius "Finlandia," which was not only musically sound and highly polished, but alight with a fine glow of inspiration and meaning.

As an interesting variation in the program, Mr. Knudsen included "Romance for Violin and Strings" (Svendsen) with concert mistress Julia Hunt as soloist. She displayed a competent technique and smooth tone.

The "H.M.S. Pinafore" selection, a happy foreshadowing of the production in which the orchestra is to be associated in May, and the irresistibly rhythmic and whimsical "Pavanne" from the 2nd American Symphonette by Morton Gould brought enthusiastic applause.

The graceful exuberant Mozart overture, "Marriage of Figaro," which opened the program, and the melodic Strauss "Die Fledermaus," which closed it, were among the most brilliantly performed and most popular selections.

Canadian Nickel

brings Sugar to your Table

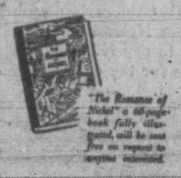
THOUSANDS of Canadians earn their living producing Nickel. Thousands of West Indians earn their living producing sugar. Only a small part of the sugar produced in the West Indies is consumed there.

Less than three per cent of the Nickel produced in Canada is consumed in Canada. The rest is exported and the money received helps to pay for sugar and other products necessary to good-living in Canada.

The export of Canadian Nickel means jobs for the thousands of employees of the Canadian Nickel industry. It also means jobs for the other thousands of Canadians who produce the lumber, power, steel, explosives, machinery, equipment and supplies used by the Canadian Nickel industry.

Canada cannot keep on importing from other lands unless she exports Canadian goods.

By constantly seeking to expand the uses of Nickel at home and abroad, the Canadian Nickel industry brings additional benefits to Canada and Canadians.



"The Romance of Nickel" a 68-page book fully illustrated, will be sent free on request to anyone interested.

VOLTAIRE SUFFERED PRISON BECAUSE OF HIS WRITINGS

Two hundred and twenty years ago, a 31-year-old Frenchman landed in England. When people asked him his name, he told them it was Voltaire.

The name of Voltaire had been adopted. At birth this Frenchman was called Francis Arouet. It was after he had learned the meaning of prison that he had taken the name of Voltaire.

He was a writer, and several of his plays had been put on the stage in Paris. People said that his writing was clever. Besides his plays, he had written poems and essays.

A man in high office in France had read printed words which made fun of him. Arouet was said to have been the author, and for this reason was cast into the Bastille.

That prison term lasted 11 months. After being set free, he changed his name to Voltaire. Several years later, the young writer fell into trouble again. Having made sport of a noble who had insulted him, he was set upon and beaten by the noble's servants, and was thrown into prison again.

This time, upon being let out, Voltaire was sent to England as an exile. He found the country charming. Most of all he liked the free spirit among the English. It seemed to him far better than living in his native land, where the king had too much power.

VOLTAIRE

After three years in England, Voltaire was allowed to return to Paris. Here he bought shares in the government lottery, and this investment brought him much wealth as time went by.

Wealth, however, was far from being the object of Voltaire. He kept on writing. One of his books told about English liberty, and showed how much better it was than the French system of that time.

In danger of arrest because of having written the book about England, Voltaire left Paris and took up quarters in a chateau, some distance from the capital city.

Voltaire lived to the age of 85. For a few years he was at the court of Frederick the Great of Prussia, but most of his later life was spent in Geneva, Switzerland, and at a chateau four miles from Geneva, but inside the French border.

Dyson Carter, Canadian writer and scientist, will speak under the auspices of the Victoria Labor Progressive Party at the Empress Hotel ballroom Wednesday night.

Court of rental appeals will sit here Thursday and Friday morning at 10, with Judge L. A. Hanna presiding.

B.C. to Continue Farm Labor Service

The provincial agriculture department has notified Ottawa that it wishes to continue the Dominion-Provincial Emergency Farm Labor Service and the provincial government will make provision to maintain this service to harvest crops in 1946.

Under the program which has been in operation during the war years the federal and provincial governments contributed half the cost each to maintain the service. At the last session of the B.C. Legislature $60,000 was appropriated to carry on the work in 1945.

Provision for an appropriation for the coming season will probably be made by the legislature to open next Thursday although it may not be so large as last year.

We thank you!

Boy Scout–Girl Guide Week to Inform Public of Aims and Objects

One of the most impressive of any Guide ceremony is breaking the colors. Here, Julie Collar, holds the flag while the other girls salute: Left to right: Anne Greaves, Gloria Sherwood, Yvonne Rose, Mary Emerton, Rose Plant and Barbara Peterson.

Scouts in full uniform assemble in front of the Boy Scouts' Association Headquarters, 1034 Johnson Street, with their leaders. Training for leadership is one of the valuable lessons learned by these older Scouts.

Mrs. F. W. Midgley became Divisional Commissioner of Girl Guides in Victoria in 1945. Mrs. Midgley began her Guide career in England, shortly after the First World War, as a member of the Girl Guide Association, becoming District Commissioner in 1922.

Guide Movement 34 Years Old Here

Victoria has more than 300 Girl Guides and nearly 250 Brownies, Mrs. V. J. Pritchard, north district commissioner, said today, in explaining the history of the movement here.

A small beginning, she said, was made in 1912 while three years later, under the leadership of Hilda Leighton, five companies were organized. Two of these were Lady Douglas and Gonzales, which have continued without a break until the present time.

Mrs. Pritchard listed war activities of the Guides as participation in clothing drives, collection of salvage and of magazines for the troops, knitting and making clothes. Senior Guides had worked in canteens and hospitals.

"Beginnings of Guiding," she said, "are typical of the resoucefulness of the girls. Scouting for boys had been organized by Lord Baden-Powell in England, spreading rapidly throughout the British Isles, to the Dominions and other countries.

"It appeared to the sisters of the English Scouts that they had been left out of a delightful game. Action followed.

"At a huge Scout rally in London Scouts and bystanders were amazed to find in the parade a feminine counterpart of the Scout, in skirts to be sure, but complete with Scout hat, tie and staff.

"To meet the challenge, Lord Baden-Powell delegated to his sister the task of organizing a program for girls on Scout lines. This led to the Girl Guide Association."

All shined up for church parade, the Cubs pose on the steps of St. John's Church.

BOY SCOUT GIRL GUIDE WEEK

A magician show, singsong and refreshments have been planned for the Cub rally Tuesday evening at 7.30 in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium in connection with Scout-Guide Week. More than 600 Cubs are expected.

Church parades throughout the city started the week Sunday. Guides, scouts, brownies and cubs turned out in large numbers for morning services at St. John's Church and at Christ Church Cathedral. At the latter dedication of a guide flag took place.

At St. Mark's over 100 scouts and cubs turned out for a special afternoon service at which a scout flag was dedicated. Special afternoon services were also held at St. Martin's-in-the-Field and at St. Columba.

At St. Mary's and James Bay United scouts, guides, brownies and cubs attended regular morning services. Sea scouts and cubs went to church at Brentwood.

Royal Oak Scouts

Royal Oak Scout Group Association has elected R. Punt, president; Bert Reed, vice-president, and Mrs. K. Foster, secretary-treasurer. At the troop meeting, Mickey Hartree was presented with his assistant patrol leader's stripe. Four new boys, Gavin Hanslip, Arthur Hanslip, Philip Punt and Russel Punt were welcomed as recruits

Junior editions of their Girl Guide sisters are the Brownies, grouped here around the toadstool emblem.

Training Courses For Scout Leaders

Plans are under way for a special training course for Boy Scout and Girl Guide leaders, Freeman King, field commissioner, said today.

"There are a number of places in Victoria," he said, "that are without Scouts or Guides through lack of leaders. We could increase our numbers if men and women would come forward and help."

Mr. King explained the course, open to men and women between the ages of 25 and 40, would be to teach the fundamentals of Scout and Guide training. It will be conducted weekly at headquarters, 1034 Johnson Street, for six weeks. First class will be March 5, at 8.

"As our Scout and Guide population increases," he said, "juvenile delinquency will decrease. Victoria membership is now more than 2,500, an increase over the total reached last year."

The Victoria Lions Club was praised by Mr. King. He said members had done a great deal for the movement in Greater Victoria through the Lions' Own Troop.

"In Canada," he said, "we have 176,000 Scouts and Guides—a lot of youth being trained in service to others. Victoria's 2,500 Scouts and Guides include those enrolled as Cubs and Brownies. During last summer about 500 Scouts and Guides attended camps, gaining healthy exercise and learning the game of camping."

Scouts and Guides along with Cub and Brownie packs will go to church in their own neighborhoods in special parades this Sunday. Monday they will give informal demonstrations of their work in their own districts.

Langford Scouts plan a special chicken dinner Monday night, in connection with scout week.

Wives of 3 Island Men Arriving On Scythia

Wives of three island airmen are expected to arrive in Halifax Feb. 26 aboard the troopship Scythia.

They are Mrs. D. A. Cox, whose address here will be 626 Vancouver Street; Mrs. C. E. Sluggett, coming to Brentwood Bay, and Mrs. A. Stewart, who will reside in Courtenay.

The British wives will be placed on trains as quickly as possible after their arrival in Halifax. Next-of-kin are advised to contact the local branch of the Canadian Red Cross for details of arrival times.

Freeman King, Scout Field Commissioner, began Boy Scout work in Britain more than 35 years ago, carrying on with it after his arrival in Canada. Rarely out of uniform, his tall figure is a familiar sight on the streets of Victoria.

VICTORIA'S ranking little fighter, Vic Murdoch is in Seattle, participating in the Pacific Northwest Golden Gloves tournament, and he is confident of receiving a better deal than marked his appearance in the Golden Gloves affair at Vancouver last week. Murdoch, along with his manager Tommy Burgess, dropped into the office to give me the lowdown on what has all the earmarks of a raw deal. From the way Murdoch and Burgess described it to me the local scrapper never had a chance to win.

ON ARRIVAL in Vancouver for the tournament Murdoch learned that a number of teen-aged youngsters had entered the flyweight division. However, on discovering that the Victoria glove thrower intended to compete and could make the required weight of 112 pounds, all but two f the mainland entrants, Verne Bockhodt and Norm Delaire, withdrew. The former boasted 13 years and Delaire 14. Drawn to fight Bockhodt Friday night Murdoch was requested to take it easy against the kid but, despite his holding back, the youngster had to throw in the sponge in the second round. That was all right but the following evening's edition of one of the Vancouver newspapers carried the following item: "Plentiful were the tears shed by Verne Bockhodt after the 13-year-old gamecock was TKO'd by Vic Murdoch . . . Verne's handlers wanted to withdraw their charge when he was drawn with Murdoch, who has seen 31 summers, according to rumors." Murdoch, by the way, is only 24 and has his army discharge papers to prove it.

THAT BIT of publicity just made it impossible for Murdoch to win the following night against Delaire," Burgess said. "The minute Vic stepped into the ring he was greeted with a roar of booes and if the officials had ever awaded the decision to him the fans would have tore the building apart. As far as the low blows were concerned they were perfectly placed punches to the solar plexus. After the fight Royal Brougham of the Seattle P-I and several of the managers of other fighters told us the deal we had received smelt. Right after the fight Brougham came up and invited Murdoch to take part in the northwest tournament at Seattle. Funny part of it all is that both Murdoch and myself were asked to take it easy against Delaire seeing as he was just a kid and those in charge of the tournament didn't want to take any chances of his getting hurt. I tried to get Delaire's handlers to agree to a rematch in Victoria but they would have no part of it."

SHOULD Varsity Thunderbirds defeat Vancouver Lions in the final McKechnie Cup rugby match and throw the final standings into a three-way deadlock there will be no playoff for the honors. The students will exercise their right to hold the silverware on the strength of the tie. When queried here Saturday about their willingness to engage in a playoff, officials of the Varsity club showed no enthusiasm. They pointed out that Victoria had retained possession of the trophy in past seasons after being tied for top position and they intended to do the same. Of course, it always is possible Lions will whip the students and take possession of the provincial championship.

Vic Murdoch Drops Close Decision In Seattle Ring

SEATTLE (CP) — Amateur boxers from British Columbia scored five victories out of nine bouts in preliminary rounds of the 1946 Northwest Golden Gloves tournament which started here last night.

A hard loss was that of Vic Murdoch, veteran Victoria leather pusher, last year's flyweight champion, who dropped a decision to Curley Delorne of Portland.

Winners included Roddy Macdonald, well-known Vancouver middleweight, who stopped Joe (Kid) Lahoe of Bremerton, Wash., in the first round of a scheduled three-round bout.

In the lightweight division, Everett Biggs, Vancouver, defeated Frank Hopkins, Bremerton, and Eric Smith, another Vancouver lightweight, got a bye in the same division.

Tony Strahan, who won the Vancouver Golden Gloves heavyweight title last week, defeated Mike Kumpuris of Bremerton in his tilt.

Another Vancouver boxer, Stan Almond, knocked out Harold Slocum of Everett, Wash., in the first round of their bantamweight contest.

Lyle Kehoe, Vancouver, won his featherweight bout, defeating Joe Vanderveer of Yakima, Wash., but Ken McPhee, Vancouver, dropped his featherweight bout to Everett Garvey of Everett, Wash., and Jim Andrews of Vancouver was defeated by Warren Hegge of Seattle.

In the welterweight division, Jimmy Crook of Vancouver was defeated by Nip Long of Everett.

High Quality Golf Balls On Market Soon

VANCOUVER (CP)—Billy Adshead, representing a sporting goods firm, Monday gave city golfers the best news they've had since the war's end. He said he had received word that golf balls of prewar quality (real, live rubber) will be back on the market by June 1. Only synthetic and rebuilt balls are available now.

Nanaimo Clippers Capture Coast Hockey Honors

NANAIMO (CP) — Nanaimo Clippers trounced New Westminster Cubs 7 to 1 Monday night to win the best-of-five Pacific Coast Junior Hockey League final series three games to one and retain the title they won last year.

Nanaimo, showing a complete reversal of form established a 1 to 0 lead in the initial stanza and added three more in the middle panel. Bentley after turning in an outstanding game between the pipes for Clippers was robbed of a shutout when Art Wright fired home a rebound shot off an initial effort by Dennis Barkley.

Nanaimo wiped out the goal a minute later when Mitchell fired in Robertson's pass to the Cub goalmouth. Davey Jones added a sixth on a relay from Whitefield, with Mitchell scoring the final goal two minutes from time.

The game was fast throughout, with Clippers keeping the Cubs off balance over most of the distance. Cubs staged a desperate fight but were unable to get within scoring range as Nanaimo covered up effectively.

Koehle, with two, Whitefield and Richardson gave Clippers their other goals.

Nanaimo now meet Trail, interior titlist here Thursday in the first game of a best-of-three series for the provincial championship.

Coast Ice Scoring Race Tightens Up

VANCOUVER (CP) — Andy Clovechuk of Vancouver and Red Carr of Portland cut down Eddie Shamlock's lead to four points in the northern division of the Coast Hockey League scoring averages last week while E. Dartnell and Bill Robinson of Seattle made the greatest gains since release of the records a week ago.

Dartnell added 14 points to increase his figures to 70 and move up from 11th to sixth position, while Robinson increased his aggregate by 15 points to 69 and advanced from 13th place to seventh.

Shamlock has scored 36 goals and made plays for 50 others, for a total of 86 points. Clovechuk has netted 49 counters and assisted with 33 others for an 82 aggregate and Carr has obtained 37 tallies and helped with 45 others for his 82 count.

Harry Black of Los Angeles increased his margin at the head of the southern division to five points over Ralph Buchanan of San Francisco, his record now being 29 goals and 40 assists for a total of 69 points.

Manny Cotlow of Oakland and Dutch Evers of Westminster continue to lead their respective divisions as the bad men of the league, with 127 and 109 minutes respectively spent in the cooler.

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Jackie Burke, Ogden, Utah, knocked out Jimmy McAdams of Vancouver, B.C., in the third round of a scheduled eight-rounder here Monday night.

Important Senior Rugby Clash Carded

A considerable amount of interest has been aroused over Saturday afternoon's important meeting between Victoria College and J.B.A.A. at MacDonald Park in one of two games on a senior Barnard Cup rugby card.

Other match scheduled, both at 2.30, brings together Oak Bay Wanderers and Royal Canadian Naval College.

The second half race has boiled down to a contest between the Bays and Vic College to finish on top of the heap and gain the right to meet Naval College, first half winners, in the cup final.

The standings situation in regard to these two clubs is eight points for Bays and six for the College. Both have two games left to play. A win for Bays Saturday will give them the half honors. If College wins they go into a two-way tie. In that case, and if they win against the other two teams the following Saturday, they will have to playoff for the right to battle college in the final.

GAME TOMORROW

One intermediate game for tomorrow afternoon is set. This is a battle between Oak Bay High School and Victoria High School at Vic High grounds at 3.45. First-half champions, Oak Bay is on top in the second-half race, and if they score a victory they take possession of the Heyland Cup, symbolical of the intermediate title.

Major Hockey Scoring

Canuck Snipers Gain

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Canadiens won three out of three games in National Hockey League play during the past week, and it remained to Montreal players to show the most sizeable gains in official league statistics released today. In the upper brackets, Hector (Toe) Blake, and Elmer Lach added six points each, while further down, Maurice Richard—third member of the Habitants' first string line—added seven.

Blake and Lach were in a tie for eighth position last week, and this week jumped into a fifth-place tie with 37 points. Richard is in ninth place with 19 goals and 14 assists for 33 points—equal to Doug Bentley of Chicago Black Hawks and Don Gallinger of Boston Bruins.

Ahead of the two leading Montrealers, Gaye Stewart of Toronto Maple Leafs and Clint Smith of Chicago Black Hawks are deadlocked for third place with 39 points each.

Bill Mosienko of Chicago is in second place with 16 goals and 24 assists for 40 points, while far out in front in first place is Max Bentley of Black Hawks with 30 goals—highest goal total this season—and 22 assists for 52 points.

Bill Durnan, Montreal goalie, continues to lead in the goal-keeping department with 70 goals against 29 games, giving him an average of 2.414. Shut-out king is Durnan, with four.

The Chicago Black Hawks lead in penalties with 274 minutes, including two misconducts. Individual leader in penalties is Jack Stewart of Detroit, who has spent 53 minutes in the box.

Canadian Open Golf Play at Montreal

MONTREAL (CP) — The 1946 Canadian open golf championship will be played at the Montreal Beaconsfield Golf Club June 27 to 30 inclusive, Harold R. Frost, president of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, announced today.

The announcement said one of the strongest fields in the history of the competition is expected for the tournament, which always attracts top-flight Canadian and United States professionals.

Painter, Clarkson Still Hold Button

Making their sixth defence of the city button Vic Painter and Frank Clarkson of the Uplands Club had a narrow call over their home links Sunday, being held all square by Dr. G. Bigelow and Alan Taylor of Oak Bay. The defending pair retain the honors.

After being 3 down at the turn Bigelow and Taylor put on a thrilling drive to finish all even.

On March 3 Painter and Clarkson will defend against Reg Hoadley and T. Fordyce of the Gorge Vale Club.

PORTLAND, Me. (AP) — Return of Olympic competition in London in 1948 should include German and Japanese teams, Jack Dempsey, former world heavyweight boxing champion, said Monday.

The "Manassa Mauler," nursing an infected right hand that he believes resulted from too much handshaking, summed up the touchy international sports situation with the comment:

Future Rugby Action

Tide to Play Again

Should all the action prospects outlined by Arthur Cox, Victoria delegate to the B.C. Rugby Union, materialize, the might of Victoria's 1945-46 edition of the Crimson Tide will be felt several more times on the field of battle before this postwar season passes into history.

Speaking before Monday night's meeting of the local union, Cox declared that "we have insisted that should the McKechnie Cup series end in a three-way saw-off, that a play-off be held to decide the cup winners." For such a play-off Victoria favors it this way, Vancouver Lions vs. Varsity and the winner meet Victoria's Tide in the final.

However, at this date a play-off is just a possibility. Whether or not one would be necessary to determine a clear-cut winner hinges on the outcome of the Lions-Varsity clash on March 2 on the mainland in the final game of the schedule. A win for the campus crew would throw things into a tie, but, on the other hand, a victory for the Leos would give them the silverware.

The local B.C. delegate said he learned from visiting mainland officials on Saturday that "a stupendous effort" was going to be made to draw rugby's biggest gate in history for the March 2 battle. Their sights are trained on a crowd numbering 10,000. U.B.C.'s auditorium committee will work with the rugby crowd to reach this objective and the gate receipts will be split two ways, 50 per cent to the rugby unions and 50 per cent toward Varsity's proposed $500,000 stadium.

Cox said Vancouver wants a rugby attraction for the annual spring fair held in West Vancouver and proposed a meeting between Victoria Reps and Vancouver Reps in this feature.

B.C. TEAMS TRAVEL

Rugby's strongest supporter, Cox said that it is the hope of the B.C. Rugby Union this season to send the Crimson Tide and a Vancouver aggregation south for games with Stanford University. And, if it was found that California rugby was of an inferior brand, plans call for the Victoria and Vancouver sides showing in exhibitions against each other in the south.

GAME UNDER LIGHTS PLANNED

"We may also be called upon to send a rep team over to Vancouver for an exhibition in the not-too-distant future to play under the lights at McAllister Park as a test match to find out how the public will take to night features," Cox added.

Intercity rugby attractions that are a "certainty" for local soil are the Rounsfell Cup fight between the winning senior clubs of the mainland and Victoria, a sudden-death affair; an exhibition between the rowing clubs of the two cities, J.B.A.A. and Vancouver Rowing Club.

1,328 PAID TO SEE GAME

Rod McInnes, union secretary, revealed that the paid admission total for Saturday's rugby card at Macdonald Park was 1,328.

Cox and Archie Gibbs were named a committee of two to look into the matter of securing cloth sweater crests for members of the Crimson Tide to identify them as Victoria Reps.

It is understood that Vancouver is endeavoring to have Hollywood actor Joe E. Brown attend the March 2 game as a guest of the mainland city's union.

Canadian Legion Win City Basketball Title

Canadian Legion of the senior "B" men's league and Eagles of the intermediate "B" boys' division clambered aboard the championship bandwagon Monday night when the annexed city titles by posting victories in a pair of crucial playoff battles, while Alcos, city intermediate "A" champions, added lower island honors in this class to their list.

In games played at Duncan Monday night, two lower island titles came to Victoria clubs, while another local unit gathered in honors as victor in a lower island semifinal.

Victoria's K.V. juniors won over Duncan 40 to 18 to take the lower island junior home-and-home title series by a 70 to 39 count. K. V.. Midgets of the Capital City lost a low-scoring 11 to 10 game with Duncan, but took the lower island championship by a 42 to 26 score on the basis of the total count in the two games. Bob Whyte's Victoria Hotshots easily won the lower island junior girls' semifinal round when they defeated Ladysmith 50 to 14 Monday night to collect honors by a 71 to 21 count in the home-and-home series.

Tomorrow night at Vic. High gym. playoff games in the island picture will continue. The three-game card will bring together Victoria and Duncan clubs in the first game of their total-point series for lower island championships.

GAMES TOMORROW

Program follows:

7—Eaglettes vs. Duncan, intermediate "B" girls.

8—Eagles vs. Duncan Olympics, intermediate "B" boys.

9—Canadian Legion vs. Duncan Legion, senior "B" men.

The Canadian Legion collared the Victoria men's "B" silverware at the expense of Black and Whites when they posted a 45 to 28 win in the fifth and final game of their heretofore hotly-contested series. Monday night's decider did not have the characteristics of the previous four games in which the winning side scored nose decisions.

DALE, WALKER TOP SCORERS

The taximen fought hard and gamely, but the Legion lads were in "hot" form and scrambled to the front early, and stayed there. The team of Sonny Walker and Vic Dale was the leading light on the ex-servicemen's club representatives, and accounted for almost one half of their teams' score — 21 points. Dale was credited with his best defensive performance of the season. Ollie Goldsmith, who scored eight points, and Leon Hall and Bob Fields, who rang up six points apiece, were other good players on the Legion team.

Legion's Sid Watson and B. & W.'s Smith were ordered off the floor to see the rest of the game from the sidelines in the final quarer of the game for rough tactics. Alex Watson of the Black and Whites took scoring honors with nine points, while Joe Bryant was next with six.

LEGION IN FRONT EARLY

Legion showed in front right from the outset but Black and Whites kept close to them. Legion was only on top 8 to 7 at the end of the first quarter. In second-quarter play the Legionnaires scored up 12 points to their opponents' four, making the score read 20 to 11. Taximen displayed their greatest scoring power of the game in the third session, outscoring Legion by a single point, but by virtue of their first two quarters' success at the basket the eventual winners were still on top 29 to 21. Final period of play saw the Legion click on all cylinders and they drove home seven baskets and two foul shots to finish ahead by 17 points.

ALCOS TRIUMPH

A hard battle was that in which Eagles took the intermediate B laurels by marking up a 38 to 23 win over a hard-fighting St. Louis College aggregation in the last game of their best-of-three city title series.

Score in this game stood at 25 to 23 for Eagles with 10 minutes of play left. And it was here that the now-titlists put on a terrific offensive, led by "Red" McMillan, to pull well out in front and finish with a 15-point victory. McMillan and Cranston Browning were among the outstanding Eaglemen, and scored 11 and 10 points, respectively.

Bernie Clarkson with eight points and McDougall with seven headed St. Louis scorers. Bob Monaghan was also among the outstanding collegian players.

Alcos had little difficulty in taking the lower island intermediate A title from Colwood. Playing good ball Monday night, Alcos won 71 to 25 to take the total-point series of two games 128 to 50. Ken King set the scoring pace for winners with 23 points.

Keen Interest Shown In Talk On Speech

One hundred and thirty visitors crowded the reception room at 1005 Cook Street to hear an informal talk by Mrs. Wilfrid Ord on "Speech and the Speaking Voice."

Mrs. Ord said the necessity for training in all other forms of art was recognized, but speech being a universal gift had been grossly neglected, with the result that poor speaking was the rule and not the exception, even in all the speaking professions.

Mrs. Ord was assisted by Capt. Wilfrid Ord, who gave humorous monologues.

Blind War Veteran To Operate Stand

A tobacco stand will be operated by a blind veteran, Horace Woodfield, in the lobby of the Belmont Building.

The stand was built and installed under the auspices of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

Mr. Woodfield, who resides at 1745 Fairfield Road, was blinded in the last war. He will be helped in operating the stand for a time by Hugh Horniman, stand supervisor for British Columbia. Mr. Horniman and O. O. M. Woodman, business manager of the western division of the Institute, are at the Dominion Hotel.

Railwaymen Urge 40-Hour Week, Higher Pensions, Social Security

A seven-man delegation representing the railway brotherhoods in British Columbia today submitted to the B.C. cabinet a 16-point program of proposed legislation, including amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Act, setting up a fund to compensate for auto accident losses, elimination of level highway crossings, provision for a 40-hour week, and redrafting of the Election Act.

Points of the legislative program were as follows:

1. Amendment of the Workmen's Compensation Act to provide for payment of compensation if a workman has recovered from injuries but failed to regain employment, compensation to be not less than 75 per cent.

2. A board should be set up similar to the Workmen's Compensation Board, to operate a fund, taken from the fee for auto licenses, from which all damages from accidents should be paid.

3. Inauguration of an immediate program to eliminate level crossings, placing of additional protection on all crossings.

4. Legislation to compel all loaded logging trucks to stop and be preceded by a flagman over all railway crossings.

5. Government action to encourage research into basic causes of cancer, emphasizing prevention rather than treatment.

6. Amendment of the Elections Act to provide two hours off for voting, extension of advanced polls. The delegates endorsed the principle of compulsory voting.

7. Periodic examination of all autos.

8. Clothing of the Dominion government with necessary power to control all forms of inter-provincial motor transport, passenger and freight transportation for hire, so that all commodities offered for transport must be accepted regardless of whether profitable or not.

9. Continuation of industrial relations measures mutually agreed on by the provincial and federal governments, similar in principle to the National Labor Code, provision for a 40-hour week with no reduction in take-home pay; inclusion of all employees not covered in railway agreements in the Minimum Wages and Hours of Work Act; legislation to prohibit company unions.

10. Abolition of company towns.

11. Curbing of immigration until full employment effected in Canada, and enactment of regulations to require deportation of all immigrants unable to comply with language and military service clauses.

12. Co-operation of provincial and federal governments in establishment of an all-embracing social security plan.

13. Provision for minimum old age pension of $50 per month without means test and with a retiring age of 60.

14. Recognition by the provincial government of the housing shortage and action to alleviate it, a provincial government campaign to promote B.C. shipbuilding and participation by the government in the establishment of a steel industry in B.C.

15. Amendment to the Railway Act to require a driver and conductor on all streetcars.

16. Setting up of tradesmen's examining boards.

"Organized labor has no selfish interests to be served," said the brief. "Labor interests are the interests of society. It is fitting, therefore, that labor should press for social and labor legislation in the interests of the people, thereby making its contribution to social progress."

The brief was presented by E. Pugsley, secretary of the Order of Railway Conductors; W. G. McGregor, vice-chairman of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen; H. Warde of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen of America; J. Burnstill of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers; H. Elliott, chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers; H. Mackey of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and J. Thomson of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way.

Head-On Collision

Drivers of two cars which were smashed badly in a head-on collision on Blanshard Street at 3.45 this morning escaped injury, city police reported.

They were Frank D. Stewart, 3608 Douglas Street, and Clifford Hutchinson, 643 Avalon Road.

At 5.30 Monday evening, eight-year-old Gail Marshall, 1501 Fort Street, received cuts and bruises on her face and head when she was knocked down by a car on Fort between Belmont Avenue and St. Charles Street. The injured girl was taken to Jubilee Hospital for treatment.

Old Grain Debt Canceled Giving Widow Land Title

By writing off a $104.96 debt contracted 26 years ago, the provincial government, through an order-in-council, has given Mrs. J. M. Kinnear of Monte Creek, B.C., full title to her land.

On April 22, 1918, James E. Stone had applied to the provincial government to supply 1,500 pounds of wheat under the Seed Grain Act for planting on the land and the government took his promisory note for $63.60 bearing interest at 6 per cent. The land at that time was registered under the names of J. M. Kinnear and W. McKeown.

Mrs. Kinnear told the B.C. cabinet that her husband had never rented the property or signed a seed grain lien on it. Mr. Kinnear and Mr. McKeown are now dead.

So to straighten out the tangle the government canceled the debt, giving Mrs. Kinnear title to the land.

3 Year-Old Saved From Death By Foot Trapped in Crevice

Three-year-old Sammy Williams has been a source of anxiety to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Williams, 3319 Cook Street, practically ever since he was born.

The fact is, the doctors told Sammy's parents at the time he was born, that they never would raise him.

Their concern over his health and welfare reached a climax Monday, when Sammy wandered from his home and became lost in bushland off the end of Tolmie Avenue in the North Quadra district.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams spent nine and a half frantic hours before Sammy was found, and today they still are feeling shaky over the closeness their little boy came to death only a few blocks from home.

A widespread search was instigated early in the afternoon when Sammy failed to show up for lunch. More than 100 Boy Scouts, friends of the Williams' family, and total strangers wanting to help, as well as Saanich policemen, took part in the search.

Finally at 8.30 in the evening, Sgt. Eric Elwell of the municipal police force, found the youngster, and today was being acclaimed hero of the district.

Scouring through some bushes near a rocky bluff, Elwell heard a muffled cry and then a sobbing sound.

Clambering over the rocks, he found Sammy, caught by his foot in a crevice, his head hanging down six feet above a pool of water about 10 inches deep.

MIGHT HAVE DROWNED

The youngster barely was conscious, and had he struggled and fallen, he surely would have been knocked out and drowned.

Today Sammy is in Jubilee Hospital, for the second time in his young life, feeling fairly perky again, and pointing to his right ankle which is badly swollen.

No bones are broken, though, and the little boy is fast forgetting about his frightening experience.

His parents will not forget, though. "Monday sure was a bad day for us" said George Williams, the father. "But it was a good day, too, because Sammy is okay."

Soon after Sammy was born, he had to spend three months in hospital because of his weak condition. Later his parents took him to the Queen Alexandra Solarium where he stayed until he was a year old. During the last two years at home, Sammy has been watched with "an eagle eye" and given particular care. Although small for his years, he was considered cured from his early condition.

THANKS TO SERGEANT

"Yes, he always has been of particular concern to us and this was the payoff," said Williams. "Thank goodness he is safe. We always will be indebted to Sergt. Elwell and the Scouts and all the others who helped in the search."

When Elwell heard the cry, he shouted but did not get a reply. He rushed to the spot from which the sound came and immediately saw the child.

"He was pretty cold and didn't move for a minute. I sure had a feeling of relief when I found that he was alive," Elwell said.

Many of the searchers, including Sammy's father, had passed within about 20 feet of the youngster during the afternoon. But he was hanging in such a position that it was next to an impossibility to see him. His cries would be muffled, also, with his face next to the rocky bluff.

It was the first time Sammy had wandered away from home. It was believed he had followed his four-and-a-half-year-old brother, Danny, and his twin cousins, six-year-old Carl and Clinton Williams, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Williams, Cook Street, who had gone to visit some neighboring children.

Want More Details

The city council finance committee has asked that Robert Noel submit in writing full details of his proposed plan to erect a civic auditorium and amusement centre at a meeting Monday, Ald. Edward Williams, committee chairman reports.

Mr. Noel proposes to erect a civic centre at his own expense if the city will give him the land at Cook and Pembroke, known as the "old Savory estate," and in addition grant him 10 years free taxes.

In the event that the city council considers the proposition a good one, the question of giving land away will have to be put to the ratepayers in the form of a by-law, Ald. Williams explained.

"The committee feels that it should have all details of construction, what fees would be charged those using the building, and how it would be operated, before going any further," Ald. Williams said.

Inspector Outlines Modernization Plan For City Schools

Renovation and modernization of elementary schools, the rebuilding of Central Junior High and the building of one and possibly two new junior high schools were part of Victoria's four-year plan to improve the city school system, J. F. K. English, municipal inspector of schools, told representatives of the Victoria and District Parent-Teacher Association at North Ward School Monday evening.

Other plans included completion of pre-primary classes and a new gym and technical shops at Victoria High School.

"The Central Junior High buildings have served their purpose but they are very old and completely out of date," Mr. English said. "As a junior high school they are a disgrace to your city and it's time something was done about it."

Plans were already made for new buildings on this site. The east building on Fernwood Road would be the only one left intact. The others would be torn down and replaced with modern buildings, including separate gymnasium and auditorium that could be used for community activities.

"It is 32 years since you had a new school in Victoria," Mr. English said. "It is certainly time we set a goal and work to attain it."

Victorian First To Join R.C.A.F.

A former member of the Victoria Air Cadet Corps at Victoria High School, Gilbert O'Malley, was one of the first two ground recruits enlisted under the new peacetime R.C.A.F. program and attested today by Air Vice-Marshal J. L. Plant, C.B.E., also a former Victorian.

The attestation took place at the R.C.A.F. recruiting station, Jericho Beach.

Both O'Malley and Ronald Arthur Wright, Vancouver, the other ground crew recruit attested, are former air cadets who previously attempted without success to join the R.C.A.F. In both cases, cessation of recruiting toward the end of the war prevented enlistment.

O'Malley enlisted in the R.C.N.V.R., however, and saw service in the north Atlantic on convoy duty, while Wright was in the Canadian army until his demobilization last December. They will be on leave without pay until they report to R.C.A.F. manning pool Sept. 2.

Victorian Fought With Head-Hunters Against Japanese

Sgt. Roy Chan of Victoria was one of a small party "inserted by air" into mountain fastnesses of Borneo to carry out guerrilla warfare in the Jap-infested jungles, according to an account of the exploits of the party given today by Capt. R. K. Cheng of Lillooet and Vancouver.

The head-hunters of Borneo are small, but rate with the world's best fighters for courage, stamina and resourcefulness, Capt. Cheng said. Thirsting for revenge for the barbaric cruelties inflicted on them by the Japanese, the natives joined eagerly with the Canadian-British-Australian guerrilla force in harassing the invaders.

The Japanese feared the vengeful natives because they knew their heads would quickly become murals in some head-hunter's longhouse if they were captured, Capt. Cheng said.

The guerrilla force trained the natives in the use of firearms, and the natives trained the guerrilla force in noiselessly traversing tropical trails, wielding the broad, curved jungle knife, and living off the land.

"I have never seen any evidence of cannibalism among the head-hunters," commented Capt. Cheng. He explained that collecting heads is a qualification necessary for the young natives similar to an officers' training course.

Patrols never struck unless they were sure they would achieve at least 90 per cent casualties, he said. "We always made sure we had the greatest advantage."

Rations were delivered by plane. Mail from Canada was dropped into the hands of the men in their remote outpost three weeks after it was posted.

Capt. Cheng returned to Canada early in January.

Police, Cattlemen Co-operate to Stamp Out Cattle Thefts

Steps are being taken by Commissioner T. W. S. Parsons of the B.C. Police, to provide for a closer liaison between the force and the Nicola Cattlemen's Association and other similar bodies to stamp out cattle theft and brand defacing.

Commissioner Parsons has just returned from a trip to the interior where he outlined the work of the police over the past five years. The day of the cattle thief is not over, but the police has gone far toward eliminating him.

Attorney-General R. L. Maitland, K.C., said the B.C. Police had received 40 complaints of cattle theft in the last five years, and as a result 19 prosecutions had been undertaken. Fourteen convictions with fines or imprisonment had been won.

In the same five-year period, the police had launched 72 prosecutions under the Brands Act and obtained 66 convictions, a record of which Commissioner Parsons was justifiably proud, Mr. Maitland said.

Under the Brands Act, most common offences were non-registration of brands; failure to keep records of sales; unlicensed dealing in stock; moving cattle on the hoof without proper notice; shipping without way bills; defacing brands and unlawfully shipping beef. Prison terms ranged as high as six months for such offences, Mr. Maitland said.

3-Man Commission To Report On Pay Of Civil Servants

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister King today announced the appointment of a three-man royal commission "to examine into and make recommendations to the government upon the scales of salary, classifications and conditions of employment of the senior administrative officers in the public service."

During the last session of the Commons, criticism was heard from all sides of the House that inducements in the civil service were not on a high enough scale to attract and keep the best men possible.

The salary bracket for senior civil servants runs from $5,000 to $10,000, a range considered much lower than that paid men with similar responsibilities in commercial life.

Mr. King said today it was desirable the examination be conducted by a disinterested body "which is in a position to consider the matter objectively."

The commissioners are:

Walter L. Gordon, chairman, senior partner of the accounting firm of Clarkson, Gordon, Dilworth and Nash of Toronto.

Maj.-Gen. Edouard deB Panet, retired commander of Military District No. 4, Montreal.

Sir Horace Hamilton, prominent retired British civil servant and authority on that service.

The secretaries of the commission will be J. J. Deutsch and Paul M. Pelletier, Ottawa civil servants.

Firm to Deliver 3,000 Tons of Lime

Pacific Lime Co. of Texada Island has undertaken to supply 3,000 tons of hydrated lime to Fraser Valley Farmers by March 15, Agriculture Minister Frank Putnam has been notified by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. The company has also undertaken, according to the Prices Board, to supply 7,000 tons of crushed lime rock.

In the meantime Agriculture Minister J. G. Gardiner in Ottawa has notified Mr. Putnam that he is investigating representations made to him by the B.C. agriculture department which asked that exports of lime by the company to Washington and Oregon be curbed until domestic requirements had been supplied. Mr. Gardiner said he would take the matter up with Wartime Prices and Trade Board officials in Ottawa.

Last Friday Mr. Putnam wired the prices board in Ottawa and Mr. Gardiner asking that action be taken to supply British Columbia farmers with lime. The company, according to the agriculture department, had agreed last June to supply 12,000 tons of lime.

Cancelation of the company's export permits had been asked by Mr. Putnam to assure that the lime would be delivered.

Victoria Beautiful, English Bride Says

"When I arrived in Vancouver I thought it was pretty, but Victoria beats anything," Peggy Cawsey, English wife of S. T. Cawsey, 3071 Wascana Street, said today. Mrs. Cawsey arrived here Saturday after a journey from England which, she said, was wonderful.

Enthusiastic about the care given by the Canadian Red Cross Society to British wives of Canadian servicemen on the trip to their new homes, Mrs. Cawsey said the train journey across Canada aboard the so-called "Diaper Special" had been pleasant and that the ocean voyage preceding it had been fairly calm.

"I hear that we were lucky in that respect," she said. "We had only one or two rough days while crossing."

A resident of Epsom, Surrey, before leaving to join her husband, who served overseas with the 1st Division Infantry Troop Workshop, Mrs. Cawsey said some parts of Canada reminded her of her home in England but that Victoria had more hills and was quite different.

"I do like it here, and think I shall be very happy," she declared.

The Cawseys were married in 1942. Mrs. Cawsey previously was a bookkeeper in a town near her home.

Wind Strips Track, Ties From Bridge

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — A terrific wind stripped a railroad bridge of its track, ties and stringers, halting rail traffic south of here Monday.

Alaska Railroad officials said snowslides also sealed the right of way. The bridge was in Bear Valley on the line to Whittier. Railroad spokesmen revealed at the same time that five boxcars were blown from the bridge by a lighter gust a month ago.

YORK THEATRE

The "Most Glorious Musical Film Festival" will open at the York Theatre next Monday.

In line with their policy of bringing the finest film entertainment possible to Victoria, the York presents Grace Moore, the great singing actress, singing the melodious music of Jerome Kern, Verdi and Schubert, in "When You're In Love." Cary Grant will be co-starred with Miss Moore in this picture.

Some of the greatest names in the musical world will be presented in their second feature, "Adventure In Music," Jose Iturbi, world-famous pianist, playing the immortal music of Liszt and Chopin; Veonsky and Babin, internationally famous duo pianists; Emanuel Feuerman, 'cellist; Mildred Dilling, harpist, and the Coolidge String Quartette.

For the added enjoyment of the York patrons, the 100-piece Toronto Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Sir Ernest MacMillan, will present the "Jamaican Rhumba" by Arthur Benjamin, and the Overture by Cola Breugnon.

DOMINION THEATRE

Five days after the atomic bomb blasted Japan, a bombshell hit Hollywood! Behind locked doors, surrounded with the utmost secrecy, 20th Century-Fox studios had been at work for months on a motion picture, the story of which was adapted from cases in the espionage files of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The first picture ever filmed with the official co-operation of the F.B.I., it could not be made public until the first atomic bomb was dropped on Japan. The picture, titled "The House on 92nd Street," starring William Eythe, Lloyd Nolan and Signe Hasso, is currently at the Dominion Theatre.

INCOMPARABLE TRIO of Universal's "This Love of Ours" are co-stars Merle Oberon, Charles Korvin (centre) and Claude Rains, now at the Plaza-Oak Bay Theatres.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Antonio Moreno celebrates his 30th year in motion pictures in one of the most important roles since his early silent starring days. He appears currently in RKO Radio's technicolor production, "The Spanish Main," now at the Capitol Theatre. Moreno, who began his film career in 1914, was signed by Producer Frank Borzage to play the middle-aged Don Pedro, Commandante of the garrisons of Cartagena, hotbed of piracy in the 17th century. Paul Henreid, Maureen O'Hara and Walter Slezak star with Frank Borzage directing.

ATLAS THEATRE

There's little chance of future financial worry for Billy Halop, one of the "Dead End" kids who plays in "Angels With Dirty Faces," the Warner Bros. underworld melodrama at the Atlas Theatre.

Young Halop revealed one day during the filming of that picture that from the money he made off radio alone he can retire at 35 with an income of $100 a week. The salary being paid him by Warner Bros. goes into a trust fund separated from his radio earnings.

Visiting in Victoria

Rowan C. Coleman, a former student at University School, and son of D. C. Coleman, president of Canadian Pacific Railways, is at the Empress Hotel for two days while visiting Victoria.

Following six years' service overseas, he returned with the rank of lieutenant-colonel, and holds the Distinguished Service Cross and Military Cross. While with the 8th Army he served in Italy and Sicily.

Hollywood Column

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Treatment of war neurosis with Chopin, Debussy and Gershwin—that's Jose Iturbi's contribution to the postwar effort.

The beneficial effects of music on neurotic combat veterans is not to be overestimated, but Iturbi said physicians have told him that his piano playing often has a soothing, and sometimes remedial effect on his taunt-nerved listeners. Moods, tones and tempos of the music often release restrained emotions of the boys, he explained, and in some cases that is all that is needed.

"Sometimes I don't even receive applause," he said, "for many of the listeners are both neurosis cases and amputees. The war is far from over for these boys." With that in mind, he is spending much of his free time in the service hospitals. He sometimes plays for seven hours straight.

Four and a half years ago Stirling Hayden left Paramount saying he was through with movies. Now he has signed a new contract and will be back at the studio April 1. . . . When Clark Gable gets back from a Florida vacation, he'll have a reunion with a war hero. The vet is Lance, Clark's Doberman, who has been released from the Coastguard with a commendation for overseas service. . . .

MAUREEN O'HARA and Walter Slezak, who co-star with Paul Henreid in RKO radio's superb romance, "The Spanish Main," in technicolor, portray respectively a noble lady and a relentless Viceroy of New Grenade. The Frank Borzage production deals with a fearless pirate, who kidnaps the viceroy's fiancee and makes her his bride, is now at the Capitol Theatre.

YORK THEATRE

Starring David Niven, "The Way Ahead," a 20th Ceutury-Fox release, is now at the York Theatre, tells a story never before brought to the screen. Despite its wartime background it is not a "war" story in a sense, for it tells a tale of human beings in the face of hardship and danger.

OAK BAY-PLAZA THEATRES

William Dieterle knows the best "doctors" in Hollywood, cinematically speaking, since he has directed numerous medical plots, including "The Story of Louis Pasteur" and 'Dr. Ehritch's Magic Bullet."

Fritz Leiber, noted Shapespearean actor, who played an M.D. in "Pasteur," is seen as one again in "This Love of Ours" now at the Oak Bay and Plaze Theatres. Dietere directed for Universal with Mere Oberon, Claude Rains and Charles Korvin co-starred.

Industrials Decline In Slump As Leaders Head Downward

TORONTO (CP) — Stocks worked into a sizable slump today on the Toronto exchange. A long list of industrials declined a point or more, and most of the interlisted leaders followed the trend downward. Trading quited down a bit on the price decline and turnover for the day was around 2,100,000 shares.

Hiram Walker weakened four points to 115, and losses of a point or more were netted by Canadian Industrial Alcohol A, Distillers - Seagrams, International Paper, Brazilian, C.P.R., Canadian Breweries, Dominion Steel B and several other papers and steels, some of the foods held fractional gains.

Lake Shore, Kerr-Addison, McIntyre, Dome and Hollinger all took fractional losses while trading in light volume.

Nickel and Noranda closed more than a point down, and Waite-Amulet, Reeves-Macdonald, Normetal and Steep Rock lost 10 to 15 cents. Labrador took a loss of 75 cents or more. Home, Pacific Pete, Royalite, Anglo-Canadian and Roxana were weak western oils.

Losses General As Market Hits One of Worst Slumps In Years

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market today suffered one of its worst slumps in almost six years as heavy selling hit virtually all departments for losses of one to around nine points.

Trends displayed sinking tendencies from the start. Extreme declines were reduced at midday and activity tapered. The pace again quickened toward the final hour as steels, motors, rails, rubbers, coppers, utilities and widely assorted industrials hit bottom. Some comebacks were in sight near the close. Transfers of above 2,000,000 shares were among the largest of the past month.

Canadian issues posted losses in dealings up to midday.

Distillers Seagram dropped 2¾ at 89 on the big board and International Nickel at 40⅛ was down 1⅜. Other losses were posted for Canadian Pacific 21¼, off ¾, Dome Mines 27⅝, off ⅝, and Hiram Walker minus 2 at 105.

Dow Jones averages closed today as follows:

30 Industrials	196.13	off 5.50
20 Rails	62.96	off 2.41
15 Utilities	39.10	off 1.36

CHICAGO (AP) — May rye and deferred oats, the only active contracts on the Chicago Board of Trade, were weak today. Easiness developed immediately after the opening on moderate selling by commission houses.

Rye rallied toward midsession, but profit cashing pushed prices back to the day's low.

Oats failed to show any strength and held at about a cent below yesterday's close most of the session. Weakness of securities and cotton, reflecting the possibility of more rigid governmental price control, and the cloudy labor picture were contributing factors in the decline.

'Muskox' Column Makes 12 Miles

CHURCHILL, Man. (CP)—The "Muskox" column of 11 snowmobiles was at Nannulla, an old abandoned trading post used by trappers, today after bucking the elements at their fiercest for 24 hours.

In the early stages of the 3,100-mile trek through Canada's Arctic, the last seven of the snowmobiles ground into Nannulla at 9 this morning. Since midnight Monday night they had beaten their way 12 miles through a driving snowstorm that followed a day of bright clear sunshine.

The force refuelled from supplies dropped by air on the ice of Hudson Bay and will sleep before moving towards Eskimo Point, last spot they will see on the coast of the bay.

The weather is taxing the abilities of some of Canada's best meteorologists, coping with its vagaries in that little known area of Canada.

Meanwhile, late word received from Lt.-Col. Graham Rowley's "Baker Lake Force" said it had reached its destination out ahead of the Muskox force and expected to commence clearing an ice landing strip for the supplying aircraft of an R.C.A.F. air supply unit.

Old Vancouver Hotel Now Being Occupied

VANCOUVER (CP) — The old Vancouver Hotel, once Vancouver's most exclusive hostelry, officially opened its doors Monday to veterans of the Second Great War and their dependents.

Under management of the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council, the hotel reopened as a veterans' emergency hostel. Forty-five persons moved in during the day.

Over the week-end three more couples, all described as emergency cases, with no place to sleep, became residents of the big structure in the centre of the downtown business section.

Millicent Fleming, registrar, said she expected about 12 families to move in each day this week.

Rooms are furnished modestly with hospital bed, table and chairs, chest of drawers and other essentials in each.

The hostel is in need of carpets to cover the bare wooden and concrete floors and A. W. Cowley, executive director of the Rehabilitation Council, appealed to the public for rugs and carpets.

Six families were already living in the hostel before its official opening Monday. They were among the original occupation force which took over the hotel to force government action. They were allowed to remain because they had no place to go.

Petition Planned By Seamen's Union

The petition has been adopted by the Seafarers' International Union here as the best method of bringing the union's requests for better accommodation on shipboard to the attention of the shipowners, the federal government and the public.

The Victoria local of the union, meeting at the Labor Hall, 602 Broughton Street, has adopted a petition headed by a resolution asking the support of all sections of organized labor and the public in their campaign to secure better accommodation on ships. When sufficient signatures have been received the petition will be forwarded to the Dominion government and the shipowners will be notified.

"For too long now have the shipowners adopted the attitude that ships must have passanger and cargo space before all else to the detriment of the crews," said William McLaughlin, business agent for the union.

"All they ask is free and unhindered access to their quarters, the space per person increased to modern standards of health and sanitation, and that all accommodation on the water line be condemned and used as store rooms."

Seacliff Park is in drydock here, and the Tipperary Park will be overhauled in North Vancouver prior to loading Unrra cargo for China. Victoria Park will pick up pulp and grain at Comox and Port Alice, and Strathcona Park is loading grain at New Westminster.

After drydocking in Vancouver, the Strathcona Park will load grain for Belgium.

The amount in storage, all of it wheat, was 15,800 bushels below the previous week.

One Woman's Day

By NANCY HODGES

ANTIDOTE TO DELINQUENCY

ANYONE WHO HAS THE welfare of young Canadians at heart must watch with apprehension the rising tide of juvenile delinquency.

In a report on the Teenage Canteen the other day, the supervisor of that excellent institution reported the alarming increase in the number of lads applying for admittance while under the influence of liquor—and being refused.

While scarcely a day passes in which the papers do not carry some item involving young delinquents.

Many of them in offenses of serious nature—ranging from wholesale lamp-smashing to stealing cars.

TERRIBLE TREND

SUCH TENDENCIES ARE NOT localized. They are symptomatic of the trend among juveniles the world over.

Many authorities attribute it to the general upset caused by the war.

Incidentally, I read the other day that one of the biggest tasks facing those in charge of rehabilitation in Europe is that of "reconverting" the young people.

In the occupied countries, for instance, children over the war years had to lie to the enemy, had to steal to keep body and soul together.

And they were encouraged to do so, because their survival—and the survival of the parents, too—depended upon it.

So it is not easy to convince those children now that lying and thievery are wrong.

NOT THEIR FAULT

IT IS NOT THEIR FAULT that they have developed such deplorable traits under such conditions.

Nor is it always the fault of the Canadian youngster when he or she strays from the path of rectitude.

In the majority of cases it is the parents who are to blame—who are delinquent in their duty.

They forget that education should begin at home, not in the schools. And that it is for instruction that youngsters go to school.

So they expect overworked teachers to impart decent manners, respect for authority, the difference between right and wrong—in fact all those things that should be taught in the home.

HEALTHY OUTLET

OR ELSE THEY WON'T ALLOW youngsters to find the proper outlet at home for their natural, healthy animal spirits.

So send them off to the movies or anywhere, as long as it's away from home—without troubling to find out where they are or whom they are with.

Yet express surprise and anger if their Joe or Mary becomes entailed in some serious scrape or other.

Students of juvenile delinquency find that, in the majority of cases, the trouble would never have arisen if the youngsters had been kept occupied and interested.

If they had been prov
